Notorious Gossip

The multiplicity of alphabetical agencies now in vogue in government continues to be baffling to most of us. For instance, the other day a ticket collector on the Long Island Railroad, as the train drew near to Jamaica, remarked as he viewed accumulated junk on adjacent land: "Why don't they put some of those C. P. A. workers to clearing away that stuff?"

"What's a chef?" asked his wife.

"A chef is a man with a big enough vocabulary to give the soup a different name every day."

At one time during a season of heavy fog, a London daily paper offered a prize for the best fog story. The story given here won the prize:

A merchant received a telephone message one morning from one of his clerks. "Hello, Mr. Smith," said the clerk over the wire, "I cannot come down to the shop this morning on account of the fog. I have not yet arrived home yesterday."

The teacher had forbidden the children to eat candy or chew gum during school time. One day she became suspicious of a lump in Jimmie's cheek.

"Jimmie," she said reprovingly, "are you eating candy or chewing gum?"

"Neither one," replied Jimmie. "I'm soaking a prune to eat at recess."

RECORD TIME BY POTSDAM

Third Voyage To The Far East

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Bremen, June 5.

The German express liner Potsdam of the North German Lloyd created a record on the conclusion of her third voyage to the Far East on June 1, covering the 25,686 sea miles voyage from Bremerhaven-Kobe-Hamburg in 66 days. The trip from Bremen to Singapore took only 19 days and to Shanghai only 27 days, instead of 22 and 37 respectively, required till now.

Twenty seven ports were called at in course of the trip, which was the fastest voyage ever made between Europe and the Far East by a passenger ship.—

VIENNA TRIAL SENTENCES

Light Penalty For High Treason

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Vienna, June 5.

Sentence was passed on Thursday on 18 National Socialists, who had to answer charges of high treason for having attempted to form Storm Troop organisations.

Sentences of five to ten months' imprisonment were imposed, but the men obtained their liberty at once, since these terms have already been served in custody awaiting the trial.

The principle accused was the former Lieutenant in the Austrian Army, Lukisch.

During the trial, press and public were excluded from the greater part of the proceedings.—

TRIPLE MURDER IN JERUSALEM

RACIAL BITTERNESS INCREASED

Jerusalem, May 17.

A cold-blooded crime which will help to embitter the racial strife in Palestine was perpetrated last night when an unknown person fired five revolver shots into the crowd which was leaving a large cinema in the Jewish quarter of Jerusalem. Three Jews were killed almost instantly and two others were slightly wounded.

The lights had just gone on at the conclusion of the performance and the spectators were preparing to leave when the gunman fired point-blank into the mass and then made his escape almost before anyone had realized what had happened. The police have a description of the man, who is stated to have been dressed in European clothes and to have been bareheaded.

For the funeral of the three victims this morning all Jewish shops in Jerusalem were closed until noon as a sign of mourning. An immense crowd of Jews assembled outside the hospital to which the victims had been taken, but was allowed to follow the coffins only for a short distance. In order to avoid incidents it was arranged that only 12 omnibuses containing mourners should go to the Jewish cemetery in the Valley of the Kedron, where the bodies were interred, and while the funeral was in progress The Cameron Highlanders made a route march in the neighbourhood. A curfew has been introduced from to-night over the whole municipal area of Jerusalem.

This crime has greatly increased the tension and has produced a most painful impression on the Jewish population. The Arab Press advances the theory that the murderer was a Jewish Communist; but the Jews not unnaturally hold a different opinion and believe that they have now to face a campaign of deliberate terrorism designed to drive them from this country. Feeling among them is divided how best to face it; but one section, consisting mainly of Revisionists, favours retaliation and wishes to answer blow with blow. From this it can be realized that the prospect facing the British Administration is not a cheerful one. The situation since the outbreak at Jaffa four weeks ago has gone from bad to worse.

CANVAS TOWN ON VAST ESTATE

10,000 Scouts In North Of England's Biggest Jamboree

London, May 21.

A camp for more than 10,000 Scouts from all parts of the British Isles and from France, Holland, Denmark, Norway, and Sweden is to be formed during the first nine days of August on the grounds of Raby Castle, near the village of Staindrop, County Durham.

It will be the largest jamboree ever organised in the North of England, and Lord Barnard, Durham County Scout Commissioner and owner of the castle, will be the chief.

Lord Baden-Powell, the Chief Scout, and Lady Baden-Powell, the Chief Guide, will visit the jamboree on August 6, when the Scouts will be supported by a contingent of about 5000 Guides from Durham and thousands of Wolf Cubs from Northumberland and Durham.

TO OCCUPY 700 ACRES

Altogether some 700 acres of the vast estate will be taken up by actual camping activities, but the Scouts will have full permission of Lord Barnard to carry out scouting activities over the whole of his 70,000-acre estate, which stretches as far away as Appleby, in Westmorland.

The camp itself will be a model town, with its own shopping centre, telephones, water supply, and other facilities, while if necessary the fourteenth century castle itself will serve as a hospital with the Medical Officer of Health for Northumberland in attendance.

KING TO RECEIVE FREEMASONS

London, May 18.

It is understood that the King, on June 5, will receive at Buckingham Palace a deputation from the Grand Lodge of Freemasons, who will present an address to him.

The King, as Prince of Wales, was Provincial Grand Master of Surrey.

It is expected that the address will be presented to the King by his great-uncle, the Duke of Connaught, who is Grand Master of the Freemasons.

King Edward VII., who held high Masonic office before his accession, took the title of "Protector of the Freemasons" after he became King.

EARLY GERMAN REPLY TO BRITAIN

Ready For Next Geneva Meeting

CONSENT TO "REAL TREATIES"

Berlin, May 20.

The German answer to the British questionnaire on Herr Hitler's peace proposals will, it is now believed in well-informed quarters here, be sent to London almost immediately after the formation of the new French Government at the beginning of June.

It will thus be available before the next meeting of the League Council at Geneva on June 16.

Since the questionnaire was handed over, the German attitude on a number of points has been considerably clarified by Press comment and by the speeches of Nazi leaders. The picture is completed by certain private statements

The first question, which asks whether Germany can now conclude "genuine treaties," will, presumably, be answered in the affirmative.

It is not thought likely that Herr Hitler will use this opportunity to state that full German "equality of rights" will only be attained when the colonial question has been solved. In his Reichstag speech on March 7 he expressly postponed consideration of this problem until after Germany's return to the League of Nations.

Interesting light was, however, thrown on the German view of the sanctity of treaties by Dr. Goebbels, Minister of Propaganda, in a speech at Leipzig yesterday. In this he contrasted the "paragraphs" of treaties with the vital rights of a people.

AUSTRIA AND DANZIG

The next British question asks what view Germany takes of the remaining operative clauses of the Treaty of Versailles. It is difficult to see that Germany can avoid making reservations in her answer on colonies and the status of Austria, Danzig, and Memel.

It has already been made clear in newspaper articles here that the provisions of the Versailles Treaty—Articles 80, 99, and 100—dealing with these points are regarded here as null and void.

The distinction apparently drawn by the German Government between the "Reich" and the "German nation" is the subject of the next question. It is asked whether Germany recognises and intends to respect the existing status of Europe.

Interesting light was thrown on this by Herr Frauenfeld, formerly Nazi district leader for Austria, in a recent lecture in Berlin University. He said that Herr Hitler was the "leader of all Germans," and implied that this fact over-rode all national frontiers.

It is difficult to see how this doctrine can be combined with respect for the existing territorial status of Europe. It is, therefore, probable that the German answer to this question will be somewhat vague.

ATTITUDE TO LEAGUE

The most important of the remaining questions deal with Germany's return to the League. It is possible that, in view of the present situation at Geneva, Germany will take the opportunity to reserve a definite answer on this point.

The British questionnaire assumes that "no difficulty will arise as regards conformity of the proposed non-aggression pact with the obligations of members of the League of Nations and that the operation of these pacts will take place within the framework of the League."

The German Press is already asking, "What League?" This question, though in more diplomatic language, may well form an important part of the German Government's answer. It has been made clear here in inspired Press comment that the retention of Article No. 16—which provides for Sanctions—in the League Covenant may render German return to the League difficult.

The policy of the German Government is, therefore, likely to be one of "wait and see" until the question of League revision has been tackled.

ENGINEERING AND BUILDING

COMBATING COMPRESSED-AIR ILLNESS

Paper On Subject Delivered

Following upon a paper on the prevention of compressed-air sickness read by Sir Henry Japp, K.B.E. before one of the engineering institutions, a suggestion was made to the Council of the Institution of Civil Engineers that consulting engineers should confer with engineering contractors with a view to drawing up regulations for works carried out under compressed air. As a result a committee was constituted.

After sitting for some eight months, the committee submitted its report to the Council of the Institution of Civil Engineers early in the present year, and this, the full title of which is "Report of the Committee on Regulations for the Guidance of Engineers and Contractors for Work Carried Out under Compressed Air," has recently been published by the Institution.

THE INTRODUCTION

The report opens with an introduction in which a brief historical outline of the work carried out to combat caisson disease, or compressed-air illness, is given. The committee state that investigations conducted some sixty years ago by the French physiologist, Paul Bert, showed that the symptoms are due to the blood and tissues becoming supersaturated with nitrogen through exposure to the high air pressure, the gas effervescing and forming bubbles when the pressure is reduced, thus causing the circulation to be partially arrested in one or other portions of the body. It was further observed that the symptoms could be avoided by limiting the period of exposure or by subjecting men who had been so exposed to slow and gradual decompression. It was, moreover, found that the symptoms could be completely relieved by immediately returning the sufferer into the compressed air. A supplement to the "Admiralty Report on Deep Diving," which published in 1907, describes the method of calculating the time required for safe stage decompression after varying periods of exposure under different pressures, and ends with a corresponding table for the guidance of divers. This table, which was drawn up by Dr. Haldane, is now in successful use among divers in all parts of the world. It has, however, been only partially employed in civil-engineering work, and requires modification before it can generally be applied for this class of work.

PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE

Practical experience in tunnelling work has shown that the times of decompression which can safely be applied after long exposure to pressures up to about 35 lb. per square inch are definitely less than those given in the Admiralty tables. Practical exposure does not give rise with the Admiralty times of decompression for periods of exposure of two or three hours, at pressures greater than 40 lb. per square inch, are too short for caisson or tunnel work, except where very prompt and frequent use of the recompression chamber is possible. Another consideration of the utmost practical importance in tunnel or caisson work is the fact that, after a certain period of exposure, the tissues in all parts of the body become practically saturated with gas, so that a more prolonged exposure does no give rise with the same time of decompression, to any additional risk. The committee has therefore reached the conclusion that, by taking advantage of this fact, the working period in tunnels or in caissons can be extended with safety much beyond that which has hitherto been customary, provided adequate time is given for decompression. Safety has, hitherto, usually been obtained by reducing working periods to a point at which a certain limited time of decompression is required, and, in the case of high pressure, by having two working periods separated by an interval of three or four hours, thus doubling the number of decompressions per shift, and causing a great waste of workmen's time, all of which has to be paid for.

LONG PERIOD FAVOURED

Actually, it is safer and more economical to employ one long working period per shift, and to meet the increased risk due to increase of pressure by augmenting, as far as necessary, the time of decompression. With the procedure involving one working period per shift, the time spent for decompression is longer at the higher pressures than that hitherto employed. For this reason, it is essential to make the man-locks thoroughly comfortable, and part of the decompression time may be occupied in taking a meal. Good ventilation and electric or hot-water heating should be provided as required. It would be possible to shorten the time of decompression considerably by getting the men to perform muscular work, though this may prove to be impracticable.

In tunnel building it is a great advantage, after the tunnel has proceeded some distance, to have a second bulkhead with air locks. The men may then be decompressed rapidly in two minutes from the working pressure to the pressure between the bulkheads, which, when possible, should be maintained at half the absolute pressure. Whilst the men are walking in this intermediate chamber to the outer airlocks, this exercise is helping to de-aerate their bodies, so that in decompressing from half the absolute pressure to atmosphere in the outer air locks, there is much less risk of bubbles forming

THE RAWL EXPANSION BOLT

The Rawl expansion bolt, designed to give a firm hold for foundation or anchoring bolts in concrete, stone or other materials, without the use of grouting or wedges is made in two types, in both of which the holding effect is secured by the expansion of a corrugated cylindrical sleeve surrounding the bolt and divided longitudinally into four parts. The ferrule is expanded into a conical form by the drawing up of a conical head inside it at the bottom, the parts being kept together at the top by a ring. When the machine or structure to be secured in place can be slipped on to the holding-down bolts in a direction parallel to their length, the expanding cone is formed on the end of the bolt and the bolt and ferrule are inserted into the hole in in the foundation together, tightening being effected by a nut in the ordinary way.

There are cases, however, in which the machine, &c., has to be moved into place along the face of the foundation so that projecting bolts are inadmissible. To provide for such cases Messrs. Rawlplug Company, Limited, Cromwell-road, London, S.W.7, introduced the loose bolt type. In this type the cone causing expansion is in the form of a nut into which an ordinary bolt is screwed downwards, that is, the solid head of the bolt is above the flange of the part to be secured and the tightening is done with an ordinary spanner on that head. A considerable improvement has recently been made with this type of bolt, been made with this type of bolt.

The end of the sections of the sleeve has been prolonged into a kind of leg which is turned over towards the centre at its end. The nut is provided with grooves in which the legs lie, the net result being that it is contained in a cage which prevents it from falling out when the ferrule is inserted in the hole and centres it to receive the bolt. At the same time the nut is prevented from turning under the screwing-up action and is of ample strength. We understand that this modification has greatly increased the general handiness of the device. The anchoring properties are not, of course, affected and bolts set in concrete will fail from torsional stress rather than draw out when subjected to a destructive test. The loose bolt type is standardised in a number of sizes, ranging from ¾ in. in diameter by 8¼ in. length of ferrule. Three smaller sizes are also made, but these have not the hook attachment on the ferrule.

ELECTRICITY SUPPLY AND FUEL CONSUMPTION

Th most interesting and significant thing about the returns of electricity generated at, and fuel consumed in, the power stations of Great Britain during 1935, which have now been issued by the Electricity Commissioners, is that the average coal consumption at the Battersea station of the London Power Company was as low as 0.96 lb per kilowatt-hour. The information about the operation of this station, which we gave in a recent issue of Engineering, may in some degree have prepared our readers for this excellent result, but it is none the less fully worthy of record. It must make Battersea not only the most economical station in the country, but probably in the world, and Sir Leonard Pearce and his staff are heartily to be congratulated on the successful outcome of so much hard work. It may be added that the thermal efficiency of the station reached 28.59 per cent., which is also the highest in the country. Both figures are, of course, great improvements upon anything which it was thought could be realised a few years ago.

PRESENT RETURNS

The present return deals with 458 generating stations, a decrease of twelve from the number of the previous year. Actually, however, twenty-seven of the less efficient stations were closed down, the difference being accounted for by the opening of six new and two standby stations and the inclusion of seven already existing stations for the first time. Centralisation is therefore progressing at a satisfactory rate. That a greater proportion of the total load is being carried by the more economical stations is shown by the upward jump in the figures for load factor. At 23 stations this exceeded 50 per cent., reaching 75.5 per cent. at the Kearsley station of the Lancashire Electric Power Company. Actually the highest figure recorded was 84 per cent. at the station of the Lochaber Power Company, where the conditions are of course special, though that so high a figure can be reached is a testimony to the reliability of the plant. On the other hand, the well-known Bankside station of the City of London Electric Lighting Company, though it had an output of 101,239,660 kWh, only reached a load factor of 17.5 per cent. In this connection it may be noted that as long as the hours of operation exceeded 2,400 in the year, the load factor was calculated on the 8,760 hours basis, though an indication is given in the returns where the hours of generation were less than 6,600. Comparisons must therefore, in justice, be made with care.

TOTAL ELECTRICITY

The total electricity generated during the year was 18,993,474,436 kWh, compared with 16,895,551,396 kWh in 1934, an increase of 12.4 per cent. The total coal, coke and fuel oil consumed was 12,500,056 tons, compared with 11,479,416 tons an increase of 8.9 per cent, this again indicating the economy that is being achieved. In fact, the average consumption for all stations reached the low figure of 1.54 lb. per kilowatt-hour, compared with 1.58 lb. in 1934. Of the total output given above 18,106,107,488 kWh, or 95.33 per cent. were generated in steam stations. This percentage was slightly lower than in 1934, when it was 95.52 per cent. The change is mainly due to the increase in the amount of

Quickest Healer for all Festering Sores and Itching Eruptions

If you suffer from a disfiguring, distressing skin eruption, medical science cannot offer you a surer, quicker remedy than this simple Cuticura treatment which is the result of long research by a physician specialising in the treatment of skin diseases.

FOLLOW THESE DIRECTIONS: Wash the affected part night and morning with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Dry gently and apply Cuticura Ointment. This daily treatment relieves itching and allays inflammation at once. The soothing, healing, antiseptic Cuticura penetrates to the depths of the eruption. It destroys the lurking germs which keep the disease active, it heals the festering sores and steadily establishes a healthy condition of the skin which leads to complete recovery. The comfort and benefit even from the first application will amaze and delight you.

AN ENGLISH IMAM

DEATH REPORTED

London, May 20.

An exceedingly rare honour among European converts to Islam was enjoyed by Mr. Marmaduke Pickthall, who died yesterday. He was an Imam, one of the highest dignitaries in the Moslem faith, and officiated as such for some months at the Woking Mosque.

Though Lord Headley and other distinguished English Moslems did, on occasion, lead prayers at the Mosque, they never became Imams. The Imam of the Mosque, with this one exception, has always been an Oriental.

The present leader of the Moslems in this country is a woman, Mrs. Buchanan-Hamilton, who succeeded Sir Hubert Stewart-Rankin on his resignation last year. Her sex debars her from officiating at the Mosque.

TRANSLATED THE KORAN

After an early success as a novelist, notably with "Said the Fisherman," a delightful book, Mr. Pickthall devoted himself to making a new translation of the Koran. It was an immense task, since the Koran is almost as long as the Bible, obtuse as to style and written in archaic Arabic. Few satisfactory translations have, in fact, been made in any language. Pickthall's was highly praised.

Although probably the most widely read book in the world, many fewer copies of the Koran are distributed than of the Bible. This is because it is mostly chanted aloud; and even the Sheiks who do the chanting more often than not need no text because they know it by heart.

Old manuscript copies, like the one stolen recently from the Dome of the Rock in Jerusalem, are extremely valuable.

NEW CABINET IN FRANCE

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Paris, June 4

The composition of the new French Cabinet is announced as follows:—

Premier: Leon Blum. Without Portfolio: Paul Faure, and Camille Chautemps (Radical Socialist), Violette (Socialist Union); National Defence, Vice Premier: Daladier (Radical Socialist), Marine: Gasnier-Dupare (Socialist), Air: Pierre Cot (Radical Socialist), Foreign Affairs: Delboz (Radical); Colonies: Mounet (Socialist), Finance: Vincent Auriol (Socialist), National Education: Zay (Radical). Public Health: Sellier (Socialist), National Economy: Spinasses (Socialist). Public Works: Bedouce (Radical), Agriculture: Monnet (Radical). Commerce: Paul Bastide (Radical), Pensions: Riviere (Radical) and Postes and Telegraphs: Jardillier (Socialist).

The new Cabinet includes a number of woman Under-Secretaries of State, the most prominent of whom is the Novel Prize Winner, Madame Joliot-Curie, daughter of the famous discoverers of Radium, Professor and Madame Curie.—

electricity generated by water power, which rose from 464,528,596 kWh to 625,181,262 kWh, or from 2.75 to 3.29 per cent., consequent on the opening of the stations of the Galloway Water Power Company. The amount of electricity generated in oil engine stations rose from 65,909,008 kWh to 66,279,515 kWh, the percentage falling from 0.39 to 0.35. That generated by waste heat fell from 164,619,373 kWh to 135,734,816 kWh, and the percentage from 0.97 per cent. to 0.72 per cent. There were similar small drops in the amounts generated by producer gas, engines and town's refuse. It is satisfactory to note that the increase in output was general over the whole country, though it was still lowest in North-East England. The largest percentage increase occurred in South Scotland, where it was 623 per cent., a result which is again to be accounted for by the opening of the stations of the Galloway Water Power Company. The highest normal increase was 17.32 per cent. in the North of Scotland followed by 15.56 per cent. in South-West England and South Wales, 14.97 per cent. in East England and 14.9 per cent. in Central England. In South-East England it was 11.57 per cent.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

First Church Of Christ, Scientist

The subject of the lesson Sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, to-morrow, June 7, will be: "God the only cause and creator."

The Golden Text will be: I will lift up mine eye unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth. (Psalms 121: 1, 2.)

Among others, the following citations from the Bible will be read: "God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed anything, seeing the giveth to all life, and breath, and all things; For in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said For we are also his offspring." (Acts 17: 24, 25, 28).

The Lesson Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy:

The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all.

God is individual, incorporeal. He is divine Principle, love, the universal cause, the only creator, and there is no other self-existence. He is all-inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else. He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as infinite Spirit or Mind. Hence all is Spirit and spiritual.

All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God. These are His attributes, the eternal manifestations of the infinite divine Principle, Love. No wisdom is wise but His wisdom; no truth is true, no love is lovely, no life is Life but the divine; no good is, but the good God bestows.

Divine metaphysics, as revealed to spiritual understanding, shows clearly that all is mind, and that Mind is God, omnipotence, omnipresence, omniscience, that is, all power, all presence, all Science. Hence all is in reality the manifestation of Mind. (Page 331 and 275).

SIR T. INSKIP AND DEFENCE

"OTHER WAYS THAN CONSCRIPTION"

London, May 18.

A plea for "a little quiet thinking" about ways other than conscription to provide the necessary armed forces for the nation was made by Sir Thomas Inskip, the Minister for the Co-ordination of the Defence, at the fourth annual dinner on Saturday of the Fleet-street branch of the British Legion, held at the Cannon-street Hotel, London.

Major the Hon. J. J. Astor, M.P., president of the Fleet-street Branch, was the chairman.

"I do not suppose," said Sir Thomas, "we shall ever have a great standing army in this country. It is not like an Englishman to keep a great standing army. Mr. Baldwin has promised that in his time there shall never be conscription.

"I wish people would do just a little quiet thinking about this question. I have no desire to pick a quarrel with those who say they are pacifists. Look at our little country, with its far-flung Empire trade routes that need protection, and the responsibilities of Empire which increase as years go on. We have, too, taken upon ourselves responsibilities to other nations and to the Covenant of the League.

"How are we going to discharge those responsibilities? They are much greater than those which rested upon us when we were indulging in a policy of isolation, and some of those people who are most anxious that we should undertake duties peculiar to this age are themselves most backward to help this country to equip itself with the forces needed, if we are to undertake that which we have promised."

TRIBUTE TO MAJOR ASTOR

Col. the Hon. E. F. Lawson, proposing the toast of the chairman, said that a good many people thought it might be difficult or impossible to replace Lord Riddell as president of the Fleet-street branch of the Legion. "We can now say, without loss of affection for Lord Riddell, that we have succeeded in replacing him" said Col. Lawson.

"No man would be more glad than Lord Riddell to see Major Astor sitting in his place to-night. No man is better qualified than Major Astor, by war service and by what he has since done in Fleet-street, to occupy the position.

During the evening the gathering rose and drank in silence the toast of "Fallen Comrades."

HOMAGE TO JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN

Centenary Of His Birth

CELEBRATIONS IN JULY

London, May 17.

The centenary of the birth of Joseph Chamberlain, on July 8, may mark the birth of a new imperial movement in Great Britain.

The committee now preparing plans for the centenary celebrations in London and Birmingham hope that it may be possible both to raise a Joseph Chamberlain centenary fund and to rouse a fresh enthusiasm for the Empire.

Mr. L. S. Amery, M.P., who is President of the Centenary Executive Committee, gave an outline of the programme for July 8 to a representative of "The Observer."

"The celebration," he said, "will be in two parts; one in Birmingham, so long associated with the Chamberlain family, and the other in London.

ALBERT HALL MEETING

"Birmingham will expect its ex-Mayor," the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, to address the centenary meeting. London, at the Albert Hall meeting, will have Sir Austen Chamberlain, who was more connected in actual politics with his father's political and fiscal ideas."

At the Albert Hall meeting Mr. Amery will preside. Sir Henry Page Croft and Lord Lloyd will also speak. It is hoped that Sir Austen Chamberlain's speech may be broadcast.

The Dominions will also share in the centenary. Sir Thomas Wilford has undertaken to raise funds in New Zealand, and other Dominion statesmen are being asked to do their part in Canada, Australia, and the Colonies.

Take SANATOGEN—then you will not feel so "nervy"

Weak nerves are starved nerves. Not dangerous yet, but a condition which usually becomes worse unless something is done.

The nerves must be fed, and that is exactly what SANATOGEN does

Sanatogen feeds the nerves and thus strengthens them in a perfectly natural way.

Give your nerves Sanatogen and that tired "nervy" feeling will disappear entirely. That listlessness, those sleepless nights and lack of appetite—all symptoms of weakened nerves—will soon be forgotten. You will feel healthy again and ten years younger. Fresh red blood will flow through your veins, putting rosiness into your cheeks and bringing a sparkle into your eyes.

Think of it: over 25,000 physicians have testified in writing to the remarkable results obtained with Sanatogen. Follow their advice and get a package from your chemist to-day.

"PETTICOAT FEVER"

A thrice-welcomed team returned to the King's Theatre with "Petticoat Fever," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production co-starring Robert Montgomery and Myrna Loy.

These two stars haven't been seen together since the memorable "When Ladies Meet," and on seeing the new picture one wonders why, for here is certainly the outstanding comedy-romantic team of the talking screen.

Adapted from the successful stage play of the same name, "Petticoat Fever" concerns a young wireless operator in an icebound Labrador station. He is so lonely that, when a beautiful young girl flier and her male escort run out of gas and make a forced landing nearby, he holds them prisoners rather than face another Arctic night alone.

That he should fall in love with the girl is inevitable, as it is that they should be confronted by a succession of comic situations in view of the fact that the flier is engaged to her blustery English companion.

The story runs its merry course with the young operator making remarkable romantic headway.

It would be unfair to tell the conclusion of those sprightly screen play, but suffice it to say that it is as humorously dramatic as it is unexpected.

The excellent supporting cast includes Reginald Owen, as the ill-starred fiancee; Otto Yamaoka, as Montgomery's wise Eskimo servant; Forrester Harvey, Bo Ching and Iris Yamaoka.

"STRIKE ME PINK"

At The Oriental Theatre

Eddie Cantor is let loose in a gigantic amusement park in "Strike Me Pink," his sixth annual musical extravaganza showing at the Oriental Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Eddie is cast as a timid fellow who takes a correspondence course in acquiring a dominating personality and becomes manager of Dreamland Amusement Park. Here he becomes involved with a gang of slot machine racketeers who have put every previous manager on the spot. The gangsters learn that Eddie secretly adores a glamorous night club star, played by Ethel Merman. This lady is really the wife of one of their number and they use her as a "come-on" to trick Eddie into installing their fake slot machines.

Sally Eilers, is seen as Eddie's Dreamland sweetheart; Harry better known as the Greek dialectician Parkyakarkus of radio fame, William Frawley and the 1936 crop of Goldwyn Girls are featured beside Ethel Merman in the comedy.

The tuneful new song hits introduced in the film include "First You Have Me High, Then You Have Me Low," "The Lady Dances," "The Calabash Pipe" and "Shake It Off."

BROADWAY HOSTESS

"Gentlemen prefer red," according to Wini Shaw, who has been called the "Lady in Red" ever since she popularized the song of that name. Miss Shaw is appearing in the First National picture "Broadway Hostess," now playing at the Star Theatre.

"A number of tests were recently made by one of the universities and the results proved that red is the favourite colour of ninety per cent. of the men in the world," Miss Shaw explained. "But smart women already knew that without waiting for a university to make a survey.

"Red is more than a colour—it's an influence on personality. It stands for understanding and companionship and affection, the things a man holds most dear, and which he seeks in the woman he loves.

"That's why the wise woman always has some touch of red about her costume, whether her actual frock is made of that shade or not. Often, she will wear a red hat atop a black frock, or a red flower or belt or scarf. It's undoubtedly the most adaptable of colours and in one of its numerous shades, can be combined with any other colour.

"This year, especially, is a good one for women who would please their men by wearing red. For red is the most important shade on the current colour calendar and it is being shown in rich true crimson and scarlet, in the deeper wine tones, in the bright rust shades and even in the paler tints that fade almost into flesh-colour."

"Broadway Hostess" is a tuneful musical drama and besides Miss Shaw, the cast includes Phil Regan, Lyle Talbot, Genevieve Tobin, Allen Jenkins and others.

ANYTHING GOES

At The Queen's

"Anything Goes," which is being screened to-day at the Queen's Theatre, is a jolly, tuneful, entertaining picture. Bing Crosby is the featured player in this song-starred Paramount presentation of the popular Broadway musical comedy. He is assisted by such favourites as Ethel Merman, Charlie Ruggles, Ida Lupino and Grace Bradley.

The bright dance routines by LeRoy Prinz deserve mention, as does the fast-paced direction of Lewis Milestone. The audience is carried headlong from amusing escapades to diverting songs, and from spectacular night club scenes to madcap comedy.

Crosby, a knight errant boards a transatlantic liner with the passport of a public enemy. This passport leads him into plenty of trouble, as he is forced to tumble in and out of sundry disguises with hilarious consequences. He finally gets his reward with an elusive romance.

"Anything Goes" is amusing entertainment through and through. It is heartily recommended to one and all.

CEILING ZERO

That inimitable film team of James Cagney and Pat O'Brien, who made such outstanding hits in "The Irish In Us," "Devil Dogs of the Air," and other pictures are again co-starred in the Cosmopolitan production "Ceiling Zero" which is due soon at the Queen's Theatre.

It is the story of three war buddies who are thrown together in commercial aviation.

Cagney, O'Brien and Stuart Erwin have the roles of the three buddies. O'Brien is superintendent of flyers at a Western airport where Erwin is a pilot. Cagney is the spectacular aviator of them all and Pat gets him to join their forces.

June Travis, a newcomer to the screen has the leading feminine role, that of an air hostess.

Martha Tibbets plays the part of O'Brien's wife, with whom Cagney has had an affair in the past. Isabel Jewell plays the role of the wife of the pilot sent to his death through Cagney's philanderings.

Others in the cast include Barton MacLane, Craig Reynolds, Richard Purcell, Carlyle Moore, Jr., Addison Richards, Gary Owen, Edward Gargan, Robert Light, James Bush and Pat West.

FILM CHIEF LEAVES ONLY £140

Once Paid £8,000 A Year

London, May 12.

Mr. James V. Bryson, for 10 years head of the Universal Picture Corporation in this country, left only £140. Before his dismissal by Universal he was one of the most prominent figures in the British film industry, with a salary of nearly £8,000 a year.

He first became known to the general public through a hoax designed to advertise "The Phantom of the Opera." A Territorial officer was induced to provide a military escort for the picture in the belief that it was meant to assist recruiting. There was a storm of indignation when the trick was discovered, and the picture was banned.

When in 1933 Mr. Bryson was dismissed he sued for wrongful dismissal, but the High Court's verdict, with costs, went against him.

An attempt to establish a hot sausage service in London failed, and when he died last year, at the age of 52, after an accident, he was back in the film trade as a distributor.

BRITISH EMPIRE LEAGUE

Mrs. Mollison At London Dinner

London, May 19.

Mrs. Amy Mollison was an unexpected speaker at a dinner of the British Empire League in honour of Lord Hartington, Parliamentary Under-Secretary for the Dominions, in London last night.

Lord Hartington and his wife are shortly going to Australia.

Mrs. Mollison, who was accompanied by her husband, was called upon to make the first speech on behalf of the guests. She said that she brought them all good wishes from South Africa. The people there had asked her "to tell everyone in England" to support the Empire Exhibition, which is being held in South Africa this year.

Lord Mottistone, in a reference to world affairs, prophesied that if we could get through the next few weeks without trouble "the people of the world would begin to realise that hatred does not pay."

Lord Hartington said that the era of expansion of primary production in the Dominions was over. "We shall have to face the fact that certain of our exports to our Dominions must be curtailed," he said. "In the long run I don't think we shall lose economically by adopting a more generous policy to the Dominions."

Cure INSECT BITES & STINGS

—Smear ZAM-BUK On Your Skin.

WHEN you're bitten or stung by insects, poison is injected into your skin which causes painful swellings and sores. The best way to prevent festering and blood-poison is to smear Zam-Buk on immediately. This keeps the sore places healthy and soon heals them up. Zam-Buk is wonderfully soothing, too. It reduces inflammation and heals without a scar.

COUNTERFEIT COINS

A week's formal remand to consider whether the case be taken summarily or for committal was granted when Detective Inspector A. H. Elston prosecuted two men for possession of counterfeit ten cent pieces before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy. The accused Lai Sing, 26, an unemployed stoker, and Liu Shu, 28, ships cook were alleged to have 140 coins in their possession at Shanghai Street, on June 4.

• • •

STOLE CURIO

Charged with the larceny of a bronze incense bowl and a stone curio from No. 17, Wyndham Street, Chan Woon-high, 27, a travelling trader, appeared before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Court yesterday and was sentenced to six weeks.

Sergt. Goddard stated the complainant, Yan Yung, saw the defendant take the articles and gave chase. The defendant was caught. The value of the bowl was $8 and the curio $1.

• • •

OIL FILTERS

Lau Huen appeared before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Court yesterday charged with breaking into a godown at No 18, Hing Lung Street and stealing seven oil filters.

Sergt. Goddard stated that the defendant bored a hole with the aid of a self-made knife and inserted his hand and took the filters, which were valued at a total of $3.

Defendant was sentenced to three months.

• • •

FAILED TO REPORT

Chau Sing-to, driver of private car No. 3568 was summoned before Mr W. Schofield at the Central Court yesterday for failing to report an accident which befell him on May 20.

Defendant was backing his car out of the car park in Pedder Street and in doing so collided with two other cars. The damage sustained was very slight.

Defendant was fined $5.

• • •

ILLEGAL MOULDS

Ho Wah, 35, and Tsang Kwan, 31, both unemployed were committed to stand their trial at the next sessions by Mr. E. Himsworth at the Second Kowloon Court, yesterday. Inspector W. R. Chester-Woods said thet tha accused were found in possession of two moulds for counterfeiting one cent pieces and two moulds for making false ten cent pieces. The accused were arrested in Kowloon City district.

BANISHEES

Five banishees were sentenced at the Central Court yesterday by Mr. S. F. Balfour for returning before the expiration of their terms of banishment.

Lam Kam-tin, 33, banished for 10 years on July 20, 1931, was sentenced to one year.

To Ming, 26, banished for 10 years on November 27, 1923, also received a sentence of one year.

Ho Hung, 31, banished for 10 years on March 5, 1934, was sentenced to nine months.

Lam Po, 42, banished for 5 years on May 15, this year, was sentenced to six months.

Lo Kan, 37, banished for 10 years on October 10 last year, was sentenced to four months

LOITERER GAOLED

Sentence of two months and ordered to be sent back to the country at the expiration of his sentence was meted out to Chan wah alias Chau Yiu, 18, unemployed when he was charged before Mr. S F. Balfour at the Central Court yesterday with (a) loitering in Des Voeux Road Central between 3 a.m and 3.15 a.m. and (b) possessing an instrument fit for an unlawful purpose, namely an iron hook.

Det.-Sergt. Cashman said that the constable on duty in Central saw the defendant and another man loitering around the Asia cafe. The defendant was arrested but the other man ran away. In answer to the first charge defendant said that he wished to go the s.s. Kwong Sai and steal some vegetables. In answer to the second he said that the hook was meant to break open the baskets to allow him to steal the vegetables.

• • •

DUTIABLE GOODS SEIZED

Before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday an application made by Sergeant H. Green for the confiscation of 4½ gallons of dutiable liquor, and 4 lbs. of tobacco, found on the 11.35 a.m. train from Sheng Shui on May 27 was granted.

It will be recalled that the Magistrate ordered a remand for one week to await a claimant.

• • •

WATCH STOLEN

Liu Tack, 22, unemployed, was fined $10 or three weeks jail by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday for the theft of a watch from a herbalist at No. 321 Shanghai Street. Detective Sub-Inspector R. Cunningham said that the theft occured at night. The watch was valued at $7.00 and was pawned for $2.50.

HIRED FURNITURE SOLD

UNEMPLOYED CHARGED

Raymond Filler, 29, unemployed stated to be from Manila, and residing at No. 22 Nga Tsin Loong Road, appeared before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday charged with theft of several pieces of furniture from the Cheong Hing Furniture Shop, No. 318 Nathan Road, on diverse dates from January 1 this year till June 4.

Among the articles of furniture alleged to have been stolen were: one sideboard, one wardrobe, one washstand, a dining table, four chairs, a sofa, a dressing table, a bed and two easy chairs, valued at $220.

Detective Inspector A. H. Elston appeared for the prosecution.

An additional charge relating to a breach of the registration of Persons Ordinance for failure to report within a week of a change of address on May 24, was levied against the accused.

Inspector Elston said that the accused contracted with the proprietor of the furniture shop to hire the furniture at $14 a month. Accused made payments of $5. Because of financial straits he found himself on May 9, accused gave a Chesterfield suite to the landlord in lieu of payment and on May 16 after having the furniture assessed defendant sold the remainder for $38 to a second hand dealer.

In answer to the charge, Filler told the Bench that his father was in the habit of sending remittances from Manila but laterly had failed to do so, and he found himself as a consequence in dire straits. He had written to his father and was expecting a reply.

The case was remanded for one week pending receipt of the letter from Manila.

A BAD CHARACTER

COMMITTED TO SESSIONS

With a record of six other convictions, Ho Po, a returned banishee was committeed to stand his trial at the next Criminal Sessions by Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Court yesterday. The defendant was last banished for 10 years on February 23, this year.

Detective Sergeant Mackay appeared for the prosecution, and gave evidence of the identification of the fingerprints and the tracing of the defendant's previous convictions.

Evidence of the arrest was given by Chan Shui, a Police constable who stated that the defendant was arrested on May 21 in Stanley Street. The constable suspected that the defendant was a returned banishee.

Evidence of the reading of the present charge and the explanation of the Deportation Ordinance to the prisoner was given by Chiu Hing-chung and Ma Sui-kwong, Police interpreters.

Yue Lam, P.C. 129 gave evidence and said that on May 7 the defendant was taken to the s.s. Kwong Sai which was bound for Canton. Witness bought him his ticket and waited until the boat left with the defendant before returning to the Police Station and reporting that the defendant had left the Colony.

The defendant was then committed to stand trial at the next Criminal Sessions.

FLYING HOME ON LEAVE

Mr. J. H. Pennington On Dorado

LONDON IN WEEK

The R. M. A. Dorado left yesterday with the first Hong Kong resident to travel by air on home leave.

The passenger, Mr. J. H. Pennington had been contemplating the trip since April but pressure of business had caused several postponements.

Mr. Pennington will be in London in exactly a week, for at Penang he is to link up with the K.P.M. 'plane which will land him in Amsterdam next Thursday.

Mr. Pennington intends returning by air in October.

The Dorado took with her yesterday 18.77 kilos. (41.294 lbs.) of freight and 47.01 kilos (103.422 lbs.) of mails.

Mr. Pennington has been representing International Combustion, Ltd., a London firm, whose Hong Kong agents are Reiss, Massey & Co. He expects to be in London on Thursday evening as the K.P.M. liner connects immediately at Amsterdam with a 'plane for England.

TWO KILLED LAST WEEK

IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

In the Colony of Hong Kong including the Island, Kowloon and the New Territories, during the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, May 30, there were altogether 33 traffic accidents, as the result of which two persons were killed and 15 persons were injured.

Of the persons killed, a Chinese female died as the result of injuries received when she was knocked down by a private motor car whilst walking across the road.

A Chinese male died as the result of injuries received through falling off a moving motor lorry.

Of the persons injured, 11 were pedestrians who were either walking or running across the road and were struck by vehicles.

One private car driver and two passengers were injured as the result of collisions between vehicles.

One bus passenger was injured while alighting from a moving motor bus.

Of the 33 accidents, 15 were collisions between vehicles; 13 were collisions between vehicles and pedestrians; and 5 accidents were due to other causes.

STOLE FROM FATHER

Son In Court

Because his father would not give him money other than the 40 cents which were allowed him, Tsang Pui, 25, unemployed, appeared before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Court yesterday charged with the larceny of four $1 notes and ten 10 cent pieces from his father, Tsang Kau, 79, a cigarette hawker at No. 1, Douglas Street.

Det.-Sergt. Guild stated that shortly after 5 p.m. on May 2, the defendant asked his father for some money. The father allowed the defendant forty cents a day. Defendant's father would not give him the money and so the defendant put his hand into his father's pocket and took the money.

The defendant, stated Sergt. Guild has been out of work for a long time. He was at present living on his father, though he seemed able bodied enough to find work.

Defendant said that he was formerly employed as a pantry boy at the Y.M.C.A.

The case was remanded for 24 hours for enquiries.

McKINLEY DELAYED

Will Not Leave Until To-morrow Afternoon

The departure of the President McKinley for Vancouver and San Francisco, scheduled for to-day, has been postponed to 4 p.m. to-morrow.

The delay has not been caused by the fire which broke out in an oil fuel tank in the early hours of yesterday morning while the ship was in Taikoo dry dock.

UNATTENDED CARS

OWNERS FINED

Mr. M. H. Curtis, Traffic Officer of the Imperial Airways, Ltd., was summoned before Mr. E. Himsworth at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday with leaving car No. 3326 unattended in Salisbury Road on May 17. Miss I. Pestonji appearing on behalf of the defendant, admitted guilt, and was fined $10. Traffic Sergeant McHardy appeared for the prosecution.

The Magistrate said that he had received a letter from Mr. Curtis pleading extenuating circumstances. He had instructed a garage to remove the car, but apparently those concerned failed to comply with his orders.

Mr. Himsworth held however, the Mr. Curtis must be held responsible for the offence and imposed a fine as stated above.

In the First Court before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen Mr. F. Rozario, owner of car No. 4382 pleaded guilty to leaving his car unattended in Peking Road near Hankow Road on May 15, at 10.30 p.m.

A fine of $5 was imposed. Mr. Rozario while admitting the offence pleaded that he was unaware that parking was prohibited in the area. On the day in question he had attended a performance at the Star Theatre.

LAUNCH AND JUNK

COLLISION SEQUEL

A collision between a steam launch and a sampan which split the latter craft in two and precipitated all its occupants into the harbour resulting in a death from drowning, was the subject of an enquiry held at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday with Mr. E. Himsworth sitting as Coroner.

Mr. Hosegood of the Harbour Department sat with the Coroner during the hearing of evidence.

The jury comprising of Messrs. J. B. Sturgeon (foreman) C. Sloan and J. Linessmen returned a verdict of an accidental collision resulting in a drowning, with no blame attached to the coxswain of the steam launch.

According to evidence given the accident occurred 200 yards off the Praya Wall when the Cheung Chau Ferry Boat s.s. Sun Tai was leaving for the Island on April 4 at about 2 p.m. Sampan No. 1937 was making for the Praya Wall and came into collision with the launch, being split in two. She immediately took water. All the occupants fell into the water and a passenger named Li To, who was returning from a visit on board the s.s. Tsinan was drowned. His body was recovered on April 14.

The coxswain of the launch said that as soon as he saw a collision was inevitable, he gave orders for "full steam astern."

MR. RAMSAY MACDONALD'S HINT

May Return To "His First Love"—Science

London, May 20.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, speaking at the Paint Research Station, Teddington, yesterday, said:—"My first love as science. May be I shall return to her. Many a wise man has gone back to where he started."

Mr. MacDonald had unveiled a bronze tablet to the late Professor John Hinchley, of the Imperial College of Science and Technology. Paying tribute to the activities of the Research Association of British Paint, Colour, and Varnish Makers, Mr. MacDonald said that largely as the result of their work the plant from which tung oil was derived was being grown within the Empire. Tung oil has unusually good waterproofing properties, and hitherto had been obtained from China and Florida. "We shall watch this great experiment with grateful hearts," he said.

Mr. MacDonald said that the paint industry had many ramifications. "You find paint not only in the Mayfair house, which is so delightful to approach, but on our companions at the dinner table, who glow with a glory that cannot justly be described as their own. What an industry!" he added.

Mr. MacDonald visited the laboratories and opened the new extension.

EMPIRE AIR SPEED-UP

MORE SERVICES AND CHEAPER POSTAGE

London, May 20.

More frequent air services on Empire routes and big reductions in air mail postal rates are provided for in a new scheme sponsored by the Air Ministry.

Plans were described in the House of Commons yesterday during discussion of the Air Navigation Bill. They provide for:—

Carriage by air within the Empire of first-class mail matter at the rate of 1½d. per half ounce.

Nine services a week to Egypt, five services to India, three to East Africa and Singapore, two to Australia and two to South Africa.

Sir Philip Sassoon, Under-Secretary for Air, who outlined the proposals, added that negotiations for the extension of the Australia service to New Zealand are in progress.

The Bill provides for the expenditure by the Air Ministry of £1,500,000 on subsidies. The resolution in committee was carried by 259 to 122.

INCREASE OF SPEED

Discussing the proposed increase of speed in the schedules, Sir Philip said:—

"We shall work by degrees to a two and a half day schedule to East Africa, a four and a half day schedule to South Africa, a six to seven day schedule to Australia, a two and a half day schedule to India and a four and a half day schedule to Singapore."

Concerning applications for subsidy from air transport companies, Sir Philip said that charges amounting almost to corruption had been made against the Air Ministry.

"There has," he said, "been no unfair disbrimination, and such decisions as have been taken have been made on strict merits.

Captain Guest, M.P. for Plymouth, declared that the Americans had two observers on board the giant airship Hindenburg in her flight across the Atlantic.

"There is no reason," he told the Daily Mirror political correspondent last night, "why we should not have been represented in the same way."

MACAO ELECTRIC HAS A PROFIT

Will Be Water Supply Co. General Managers

TAX TO BE MODIFIED

An announcement that the Macao Electric Lighting Company Ltd., had become general managers of the Macao Water Supply Company was made at the 25th annual meeting of the Electric Lighting company yesterday.

In announcing a profit and dividend, despite a drop in revenue, the Chairman (Mr. F. J. Gellion) remarked that prospects were bright as disconnected consumers were rapidly returning.

DIVIDEND FOR YEAR

Mr Gellion said:—

The net profit, after providing for depreciation, is $101,217.86 and with $132,489.74 brought forward from the 1934 accounts we have $233,707.60 for appropriation. With this it is proposed:—

To pay a dividend of $1.25 a share on 90,000 shares, absorbing $112,500.

To pay to the Macao authorities, five percent of the total dividend paid out as per Article 15 of the Extension Contract, that is $5,625.

To carry forward $115,582.60.

The total revenue from current sales for last year was 16.8 percent less than for 1934, due to the fiscalisation tax and the general depression, but you will be pleased to hear that the Lisbon and Macao authorities have recognised that the law is not suitable for Macao, and have modified it extensively.

We are expecting to hear at any time now that it has been approved by Lisbon.

Up to date we have reconnected 35.5 percent of our consumers who stopped utilising our service and it is only a question of time before the majority of those we have lost are reconnected.

FUTURE IS HOPEFUL

Unfortunately, the depression is still very severe, but from all indications existing to-day, we can look forward to better results for this year.

Early last year, when the falling off of consumers began, steps were taken to reduce the management and operation expenses. These included the transferring of the company's provident fund into pension and insurance policies issued by the Crown Life Insurance Company.

About the middle of last year the Macao Waterworks Company, Ltd. was formed by a Hong Kong syndicate and your company became a shareholder, as you will see from the balance sheet.

In September your directors made a contract with the Macao Water Supply Company to be their general managers. This will slightly reduce our overhead charges for the current year and it is hoped that with a good potable water supply to the city which is expected in about two months, an improvement in general conditions will be experienced.

The plant and mains have been maintained in the very best of condition.

I now propose the adoption of the report and accounts.

Mr. G. H. Potts seconded and the proposition was carried unanimously.

LISBON NEGOTIATIONS

Mr. Gellion then read a letter from Mr. J. E. Jupp, a shareholder, asking the following questions:—

I understand that over a year ago when the government tax was imposed, the Company made strong representations to the Macao Government but no final decision has been made yet and in the meantime the Company has and is still suffering certain losses. What is the reason for such a long delay?

Mr. Gellion replied:—This tax decree came from Lisbon, not Macao and we took the matter up with the Macao authorities and favourable modifications were made. Some points which could not be decided at Macao were forwarded to Lisbon but were not approved.

In December I went to Lisbon and placed the matter before the authorities there who agreed that the decree was not entirely suitable for Macao, but due to the reorganisation of the Colonial Ministry early this year some delay occurred. On my return in March the matter was again taken up with the Macao authorities and the decree has now been suitably remodelled for the existing conditions in Macao and sent to Lisbon for final approval. I feel certain it will be approved at an early date.

COMPANY'S POSITION

Mr. Jupp then asked:—

There have been many rumours in Hong Kong regarding the position of the Company and the attitude of the Portuguese authorities in this matter. It is extremely disappointing to those who have their money invested in Macao to suffer this prejudice. When will a final decision be received?

Mr. Gellion: I have stated all the facts of this affair and the balance sheet shows exactly to what extent we have suffered. Naturally the modification of a decree from Lisbon takes time but I repeat that before long the matter will be satisfactorily concluded.

Mr. J. Flemming proposed and Mr. J. E. Jupp seconded, the re-election of Mr. N. G. Beale as director. This was approved.

Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews were re-appointed auditors on the proposal of Mr. A. B. Raworth, seconded by Mr. G. H. Potts.

Mr. Gellion announced the dividend warrants would be mailed to-day.

Those present were Messrs. F. J. Gellion (chairman), N. G. Beale and Wong Yu-chiu (directors), M. M. Watson (representing the secretaries) and Messrs. G. H. Potts, A. B. Raworth, J. E. Jupp and J. Flemming (shareholders).

CHINESE LOVE THE SEA

Governor Addresses Ratings

ON CORNFLOWER

Love of the sea was traditional with English and Chinese, remarked the Governor (Sir Andrew Caldecott) when he addressed the Chinese ratings of the Hong Kong Volunteer Naval Force yesterday.

H.M.S. Cornflower, headquarters of the force, was spic and span for the Governor's inspection of the ship, officers and men. Accompanied by Commodore C. G. Sedgewick and Captain W. J. R. Cragg, A.D.C. the Governor arrived at 6.30 and after the inspection attended a cocktail party given by the Commanding Officer of the force, Lieut. Comdr. J. Petrie.

Addressing the Chinese ratings, the Governor said:—

I want to tell you how very glad I am to be able to come and inspect you this evening. One thing in which the English and Chinese are very much alike is that they are very fond of the sea. Both countries have a great tradition of seamanship behind them.

I have come up from Singapore and the history of Malaya for centuries and centuries has been a history of Chinese maritime enterprise. For hundreds and hundreds of years Chinese junks, in spite of typhoons and the Sumatra monsoons have made regular voyages between China and Malaya.

PART IN DEFENCE

So it is very pleasing for me to come up here as Governor to find that you Chinese are devoting this seamanship to the defence of this Colony.

There is no need for me to tell you that you are playing an important part in the defence scheme of Hong Kong, for you know that already. As Governor and your Commander-in-Chief, however, I do want to tell you that we people of Hong Kong are very proud of our Hong Kong Volunteer Naval force.

I am quite sure that you will never let your level of efficiency weaken below its present standard, and if it is possible, even to improve it. On this I know I can rely. I wish you all the best success and happiness.

Officers of the force later attended a force dinner.

OBITUARY

MR. SECUNDINO A. NORONHA

Mr. Secundino A. Noronha, member of a well-known Portuguese family that can trace association with the Colony to within three years of the birth of Hong Kong, passed away peacefully the day before yesterday at his residence, aged 86 years.

Deceased's father came to Hong Kong in 1844 and founded printing concern under his name, J. Noronha & Co. On the death of his father, deceased took over the business and since then has been actively associated in the printing trade, until his retirement some twenty years ago, when he made his home in Canton, after having founded companies both there and in Macao. Deceased lived in the southtern Chinese capital until 1925, when as a result of the trouble that prevailed there at that time, he deemed it better to reside in the Colony.

Deceased is mourned by two sons Messrs. A. Noronha and D. Noronha the former living at Canton the latter in Macao, and three daughters one of whom is married to Mr. V. da Silva.

THE FUNERAL

Yesterday at the Roman Catholic Cemetery, a large gathering of friends attended to pay their last respects. There was a "profusion of floral tributes. The Rev. Father, L. M. Rossi officiated at the graveside, the chief mourners being Messrs. D. Noronha (son) and A. Azavedo (grandson). Those who attended included: Messrs. J. M. Noronha (nephew) J. E. Noronha, F. X. Delgado, Dr. A. P. Gutierres, Dr. E. L. de Souza, E. J. Figueiredo, V. C. da Rocha, J. F. Eca da Silva, A. J. C. Rocha, H. A. and F. P. Barros, P. J. Rodrigues, G. Bond, the Hon. A. F. B. Silva-Netto, A. Assumpcao, C. E. Roza-Pereira, and A. Alves.

Besides a profusion of family floral tributes, wreaths were sent by: Esther, M. C. da Silva, C. M. da Silva, and C. Botehlo, Olga e Julio, A. E. da Silva, J. M. Noronha and family, Henreitte and daughter, Angelo dos Remedios Prata, and H. J. Prata, Mrs. Tam Murlo and Mimi, and many others.

NO TICKETS FOR REVIEW

BIRTHDAY PARADE WILL BE OPEN TO PUBLIC

No tickets are necessary for the public to attend the review of troops that will mark the King's birthday on June 23.

The order stating that application for tickets would have to be made to the Garrison Adjutant has been cancelled and the public will be admitted freely to the Happy Valley racecourse.

Although the absence of the fleet will reduce the naval contingent, the review will be on a scale not seen in Hong Kong for many years, and will include Army, Navy and Air Force detachments, and units from the Volunteers, Police and Ambulance Brigade.

AIR MAILS GO BY SHIP

Fate Of Letters On 'Plane For Madrid

Mails carried from Manila by the two Filipino aviators last week and addressed to Madrid will not be carried when the flight is resumed for they left Hong Kong on the Chitral on Saturday.

When Antonio Arnaiz and Juan de Calve arrived in the aeroplane, "Commonwealth of the Philippines," on May 29, they brought with them two bags of mail, weighing five and 10 lbs. and containing letters for Hong Kong and loose letters addressed to Madrid.

The loose mail was regarded by the postal authorities here as ordinary mail to be forwarded by first available transport, which was the P. and O. liner Chitral.

These letters, which will reach Marseilles on June 26, will probably reach Madrid before the Commonwealth of the Philippines for the monoplane is still held up in Hong Kong, awaiting a permit to land at the next stop, Hanoi.

So far the Postmaster General has not been consulted regarding the carriage of a mail from Hong Kong and it is not known yet whether this will be done.

Famous Doctors Series. No. 4

TO GET RID OF

STOMACH TROUBLES

An English Doctor writes :—

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after most of my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."

(Signed) Dr. H. G——, M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

THE English doctor is the most conservative medical man in the world, and when he not only recommends but personally uses a remedy there can be no more convincing proof of its efficacy. This doctor is but one of many who constantly advise the use of 'Bisurated' Magnesia in all cases of indigestion. Most stomach trouble is caused by acidity, and the reason why 'Bisurated' Magnesia gives quick relief is that it instantly neutralises excess acid and soothes, heals and strengthens the inflamed stomach lining. Nothing could be simpler, safer or surer. If you suffer with indigestion or stomach disorder of any kind put your faith in European science and make an end of your troubles by taking 'Bisurated' Magnesia after eating or whenever pain is felt.

HONG KONG, JUNE 6, 1936.

JAPAN AND CHINA

The foreign policy of the Japanese Empire must be the simplest in the world. It is, in short, to expand—economically, politically, and militarily—whenever and wherever possible, and no circumstance at home or abroad is permitted to vary this fundamental rule. Of other States it is usually held correct to talk of the policy of the Government, but no change of Government in Japan, however violent, makes the slightest difference. Nor is it necessary as with other countries, to study the declarations of Japanese statesmen or ambassadors, for nothing they say has the least reference to what continues to be done. The only difference that may sometimes be noticed is one of direction: the forces of expansion are concentrated now in one place, now in another; at present that place is North China. There are several reasons for this choice, but the most important is the Japanese failure in Outer Mongolia. Since Stalin's declaration and the publication of the pact between Soviet Russia and Outer Mongolia, it has been clear that Japan could not advance farther to the west without fighting a war with Russia—a war which she is not prepared to wage and not likely to win. It was clear, too, that the Outer Mongolians were never likely to be won over to the Japanese side by the charms of propaganda, a disappointment which was promptly expressed by executing four Mongolian officials in Manchukuo for alleged conspiracy with Outer Mongolia. From the Japanese point of view there is no longer any point in treating their Mongolian subjects any better than the Koreans, Manchurians, and Chinese. But the important fact remains that for the moment the flow to the west has been dammed and the Japanese flood diverted to the south.

The situation in North China, as left by the unlamented Dohara, is complex. Of the five provinces which were to have formed the ambitious scheme for "autonomy," two, Hopei and Chahar, are already controlled by Japan through the "Autonomous Council" under Sung Cheh-yuan. Of the other three, Suiyuan, in Inner Mongolia, is under Japanese influence through the doubtful allegiance of Prince Teh Wang (as Mongols no longer matter, the Japanese may now use force to secure absolute control); Shantung is still governed by Chinese; though only partly by the Nanking Government; and Shansi is almost entirely in the hands of the Chinese Communists, who are said to have 15,000 troops in that province. But that is not all. When the great scheme fell through the Japanese took revenge by creating the East Hopei Autonomous Council under a puppet governor in the former demilitarised zone between Peking and the Great Wall. This strip, which is entirely controlled by the Japanese army, is not large, but it includes an important part of the coast between the ports of Tientsin and Chinwangtao. Along this coastline and farther north in Manchukuo itself a smuggling trade is being carried on on a colossal scale. Many of the smugglers are Japanese and Koreans, who enjoy practical immunity from the law, but in any case the Chinese Customs officials are powerless to stop it because no armed Chinese (even police) are allowed into the demilitarised zone by the terms of the Tangku Truce, and only one or two Revenue cutters are allowed within three miles of the coast. There is grave suspicion that the Japanese army is actually encouraging the smugglers. As a result the Chinese Customs revenues, which are the main source of revenue to the Nanking Government and on which many foreign loans are secured, are losing at the rate of something like £6,000,000 a year, and trade is gradually being diverted from the regular ports to these illicit landings. This policy has been described with some truth as nothing less than economic sanctions on China, designed to weaken the Nanking Government; it is also perhaps the most shameful case of robbery ever conducted or condoned by a Great Power.

It is now almost universally admitted in China that there is no limit to Japanese aggression. Sooner or later the Chinese will have to fight, if they wish to save anything, and a combination of circumstances makes sooner more probable than later. The arming of the Nanking Government has reached a peak; the powerful student movement is threatening the existence of the Government; Chiang Kai-shek himself has at last been forced to accept open responsibility for the policy which has always been his. It is doubtful whether he could survive another surrender. If, therefore, he can reach an agreement with the Communists, whom he has so long preferred to persecute, and with Canton, which is less hostile owing to the death of Hu Han-min, he may this year answer demands with defiance, even if it means the risk of open war.

NATHAN ROAD BLAZE

Tailoring Shop Destroyed

CHANCE DISCOVERY

Much excitement was caused in the Yaumati district last night when a fire broke out in a tailoring shop at 450 Nathan Road which caused severe damage.

The shop on the ground floor was unoccupied at the time, about 10.45 p.m., when flames were seen to emerge from the bottom of the doorway. Mr. James Martin who happened to be passing observed this and lost no time in giving the alarm and breaking the door open in an endeavour to save the shop.

Apparently the fire had been burning for some considerable time and the efforts of the salvage party proved fruitless and the contents were completely destroyed.

Two fire appliances from Mongkok and Tsimshatsui stations under Mr. Woolard attended and concentrated on preventing the spread of the fire to the adjoining shops which were only slightly damaged. The building being of concrete, the inmates of the upper floors had not much ground for anxiety.

TIMBER FIRE

Sudden Outbreak In Canton Road

Flames suddenly burst from a pile of timber on a vacant piece of ground in Canton Road, near Navy Street, Kowloon, at 8.30 o'clock last night.

Tsimshatsui fire brigade was summoned but before the arrival of the engines the flames had died down and the smouldering embers were soon extinguished. The burnt timber was of little value.

Cause of the fire is unknown.

TRAINS WATCHED

But Nothing Seen Of Missing Boys

A strict watch has been kept by the police on all outgoing trains and steamers in an endeavour to trace Francis Rew, 15, and John Rew, 12, Portuguese brothers, but so far they have not been seen.

The brothers were reported by Father Braga to have been missing from St. Louis's industrial school, Third Street, West Point, since 1 p.m. on Monday.

COMMERCIAL FLEET OF THE WORLD

"Hong Kong Daily Press" Special.

Hamburg, June 5.

According to British statistics, the world commercial fleet is about 40 per cent higher than before the War, whereas world commerce has not yet reached the standard of 1913. The ever growing building activity on the shipbuilding wharfs has its reason in the fact that only the most modern and efficient ships can live up to the competition; old vessels must be discharged.

Britain to-day occupies the first place and Germany takes second place with 17 per cent. of the shipbuilding in the world. The special reason for Germany's building activity lies firstly in programme for the creation of employment, and then because only one-third of the German commercial fleet is to be counted as "modern," whilst over a quarter is absolutely "old."—Transocean News Service.

SOVIET MOVE TOWARDS DEMOCRACY

Parliament With Upper And Lower Houses

CRIMINAL CODE TO BE REVISED

Moscow, June 5.

The All-Union Congress of the Soviet Party is being called to consider Stalin's report and the proposed new Soviet constitution drafted by Stalin with a committee of advisers, a project which will bring form to democratic election and party rule to the Soviet, which has been already approved by the Central Committee of the Communist Party.

It provides for a President and Parliament composed of Upper and Lower Houses, all three being elected by direct secret ballot.

Peasants will be given a vote equal to town workers and will recognise work as the elementary right of every citizen as well as his civil and proprietary rights.

Parliament will consist of 200 Senators and 600 members of the Lower House.

The move towards democracy will affect justice also. The State Prosecutor, Vyshinsky recently declared that the entire criminal code will be revised to give more protection to individual rights and property, and prisoners afforded more opportunity to state their case.—Reuter.

ANGLO-RUSSIAN NAVAL TALKS

London, June 4.

The Anglo-Russian naval talks have been resumed after a ten days' interval, which both sides used for the purpose of consulting their respective Governments in view of the threatened impasse due to British inability to accept the Russian reservation excluding her Far Eastern Fleet from the conversations

It is understood that satisfactory progress was made at to-day's talks, which covered broadly the whole field of the proposed bilateral treaty for qualitative limitation.—Reuter.

HOTEL COUPON SYSTEM

Effort To Make It International

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Berlin, June 5.

From April 1 this year, a German hotel coupon has been put into use, which can be obtained anywhere and with which bills in any hotel in Germany can be settled.

This scheme is now being discussed with a view to extending it to the international hotel traffic. It is thought that a settlement such as this would greatly simplify matters for tourists in view of the many foreign currency laws that exist in Europe to-day.

As naturally the hotel proprietors cannot by themselves inaugurate such a clearing system (for these coupons would have to be settled in some way or other), the International Hotel Proprietors Association proposes that negotiations be inaugurated with the different Governments to put such a clearing system on a Government basis.—Transocean News Service.

STOP PRESS

STRIKE SITUATION IN PALESTINE

Jerusalem, June 5.

Never since the Arab strike started has the situation in Palestine looked so unpromising. Determined efforts are being made by the Arab central strike committee to extend the stoppage of essential services which have not yet touched such an extension to produce grave developments. Strike leaders are stubborn, while the Government still insist that the strike must cease and peace be restored before negotiations are opened.

Actually only minor incidents of lawlessness have been occurring in the past few days, but the seriousness of the position is enhanced by the fact that Palestine is now regarded as the key to other Eastern countries whose populations are closely watching.

It is reliably stated that the Syrian Nationalists are considering their attitude and tactics in the event of a breakdown in the present negotiations in Paris for a treaty of alliance with France.—Reuter.

FRENCH PREMIER APPEALS TO THE WORKERS

Promise Of 40-Hour Week Held Out

GREAT HOPES FOR THE FUTURE OF FRANCE

But Peace Must Prevail

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Paris, June 5.

The French public is looking forward with tense excitement to the statement on the inner political situation, especially on the strike situation, which will be made by the new Premier, Leon Blum, at 12.15 p.m. on Friday.

The public is all the more interested in the declaration of the future policy of the Popular Front Government in view of the almost complete lack of press comment on the new Cabinet. It is generally expected that, above all, measures will be taken in view of the seriousness of the strike situation.

The Association of French Industrialists have addressed a letter to the Government declaring that the employers are unable to continue negotiations with the workers in view of the fact that the strike is still spreading and the illegal occupation of factories by workmen is still maintained. The letter expresses the hope that the Government will succeed in bringing about the evacuation of the factories, so that negotiations can be begun.

Should the present situation last or spread, it will have the most serious consequences for the entire economic life of the nation and will, above all, result in a general increase of prices and a reduction of exports.

The new French Government, it is pointed out, has a greater number of members than any previous parliamentary Government in France. The majority of Ministries were handed over to the new Ministers in course of Thursday night.—

PRESS COMMENT

Paris, June 5.

Because the majority of newspapers did not appear this morning only a few comments on the new Government are so far forthcoming and these are exclusively from the "Popular Front" quarters.

The Socialist "Populaire" referring to the composition of the cabinet says the new ministry will carry out a programme really corresponding to the will of the majority of electors.

The Radical Socialist "Republique" observes that M. Blum's original desire to create undersecretaries of state after the British pattern has not been realised and that the new French secretaries of state have become fully fledged ministers of state.

The paper suggests that one of the measures of the new Government should be the passing of a bill providing that all workers over 60 should be pensioned off. The masses, according to the paper, are prepared to help the Government surmount all obstacles "within the framework of the order of which they have given such a striking example since the beginning of the year."—

BLUM'S APPEAL

Paris, June 5.

Broadcasting to the people throughout the country, M. Leon Blum appealed to the strikers and employers to end their bickerings. He announced that it is the Government's intention to introduce in Parliament bills enforcing a forty-hour week and other ameliorations in labour conditions.

The Premier declared that the Government's programme would be carried out, but peace must prevail. He appealed to the workers to submit to law and discipline assuring them that their claims will be settled by arbitration.

He repudiated any uncompromising attitude and concluded with hopes of a great future opened for French democracy.—

EFFECT ON FINANCE

London, June 5.

While a strong undercurrent of nervousness persists, foreign exchange circles enjoyed a well-learned breather as a result of lessening pressure against gold currencies.

It is pointed out that while the francs position has not undergone a change for the better, there is a decided tendency on the part of "bears" to hold off in view of the growing belief that the French Government is more likely to resort to drastic currency restrictions rather than embark on immediate devaluation.

Moreover, it is opined that the initial heavy selling of francs engendered by the labour crisis is becoming exhausted and attention is now riveted on the efforts of the Minister of the Interior towards effecting a peaceful settlement of labour disputes. M. Blum's broadcast statement is not considered constructive.—

EMPLOYERS' DECISION

Paris, June 4.

The strikes among the metal and other industry workers assumes ever graver aspects, and the situation has been still further aggravated by the decision of the employers to break off negotiations on Thursday.

In a letter to the Minister of Labour and the Premier, the employers, stating the reasons for their decision say that it is the business of the Government to look after the general interests of the country and the industrial life upon the welfare of which depends the life and income of the worker. Therefore the Government must now take full responsibilities.

"Red Flags are now flying on many Paris factories, and the paralysation of the industry in the Provinces is steadily progressing. Everything happened as if a powerful secret Government were really ruling the country behind the legal Government, and Trade Unions as well as Socialist and Communist negotiators were simply overwhelmed by the events," says the "Temps."—

TRANSPORT WORKERS

Paris, June 4.

The strike of the Transport workers was settled, when a collective agreement, granting the striker's chief demand of a fortnight paid holiday every year, was signed by the employers and workers' delegates. ACTRESSES IN HUNGARY

Shortcomings As Motor Car Drivers

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Budapest, June 5.

If Theatre managers in Budapest have their way, actresses at Budapest theatres will have a clause inserted in their contracts forbidding them to drive their cars themselves.

The volatile temperament of the Hungarian actresses, though entrancing on the stage, does not seem to be an asset in the automobile, judging from the number of accidents in which actresses are involved. Though the accidents for the most part are of no more serious consequences than an attack of nerves, the theatre physicians invariably pronounce the victim unfit to appear, which has devastating affects on the programmes. But the managers say that they intend these measures principally in the interest of the actresses themselves.—

BLUM CABINET COMPLETED

Three Women Given Appointments

Paris, June 4.

M. Leon Blum has completed his Cabinet, which is drawn entirely from the Socialist and Radical Socialist Parties. The main posts are as follows:

Premier, M. Leon Blum

Foreign Minister, M. Yves Delbos

Finance Minister, M. Vincent Duriol

War Minister, M. Edouard Daladier

Minister of Interior, M. Salingro

There will also be three Ministers without portfolio, MM. Paul Boncour, Paul Faure and Camille Chautemps.

The Ministry includes three women Under-Secretaries—Madame Curie, for Scientific Research; Madame Suzanne Lacor, the so-called Socialist Saint, for Child Welfare; and Madame Brunschvigg, the Suffragette leader, for State Orphans and War Widows.

The Ministry of Colonies has been retained, M. Moutet having been appointed thereto.

Many people will be ignorant of the constitution of the new Cabinet, owing to the decision of the Paris Press Syndicate not to publish newspapers, owing to difficulties of distribution on account of the strike.—

NEW PHASE BEGUN

Paris, June 4.

A new phase of political life began on Thursday, when the Sarraut Government resigned to make way for the new Popular Front headed by M. Leon Blum.

The day's events passed off according to schedule. The Chamber was assembled and promptly elected M. Herriot as President. At 4.30 p.m. Premier Sarraut with the entire Cabinet proceeded to the Palais des Champs d'Elysses, where the collective resignation of the Cabinet was handed in and accepted by President Lebrun with due thanks for the work accomplished.

At 6 p.m., Leon Blum was received by President Lebrun, and formally commissioned with the formation of the new Government. The Premier-Designate then conferred with the Presidents of the Chamber and the Senate and announced his Cabinet later in the evening.—

CONFERENCE OF LABOUR

Geneva, June 4.

One of the main items for discussion at the conference of the International Labour Office, at present in session, will be the suggestion of a forty-hour week for workers.

The principle has been approved by most countries, having been thoroughly discussed at last year's meeting, and it is expected that the application of the shorter working week will be immediately enacted, in at least five industries.

The industries in which the forty-hour week will be first adopted, according to the Labour Office's plans, will be building, construction and contracting, textiles, public works, coal, and iron and steel.—

GREAT SECRECY IN ITALY

Rumours Of Troop Movements

Rome, June 5.

The air here is thick with rumours. While the holding of Army manoeuvres on the Brenner frontier is officially denied, the feeling prevails that something is afoot. It is impossible to obtain confirmation of reported troop movements, owing to the close secrecy maintained.

Demonstrations against the continuation of sanctions would hardly be staged on the Brenner frontier, as Austria is anti-sanctionist. The visit to Italy of Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg, the Austrian Chancellor, is associated in some quarters with the possibility of a Hapsburg restoration, though it is pointed out that Signor Mussolini is unlikely to choose to offend German feelings at a moment when he is trying to draw Italy and Germany closer together.

Moreover, the restoration of the Hapsburgs would probably lead to intervention by Yugo-Slavia, as the Little Entente is known to be bitterly opposed to a return to the monarchy by Austria.

Signor Mussolini is at present inaccessible at his country estate, whither he had previously retired to meditate before taking any big decision. Dr. Schuschnigg and Signor Mussolini are expected to meet outside Florence later to-day.—

LEAGUE CIRCLES PUZZLED

Military Activity At Frontiers

Geneva, June 4.

League of Nations circles are puzzled to know the meaning of warlike reports from Italy.

In the first place, schools in Northern Italy are being closed a month before the date of the normal holidays, to enable the buildings to be made available for military purposes.

Secondly, certain naval reserves have been called up.

Thirdly, two more classes of reservists have been ordered to remain in readiness.

Fourthly, Italians at Geneva have been warned to be in readiness to join up.

Fifthly, there is much military activity on both the French and Yugo-Slavian frontiers.

The reports, coupled with the return of Marshal Badoglio, may be intended as a warning to the Powers if sanctions are maintained or intensified, or they may be connected with the restoration of the Hapsburgs.

The fact that Dr. Schuschnigg, Austrian Chancellor, is at present visiting Viareggio, where he will possibly see Signor Mussolini, seems to support the latter hypothesis, and it is reported that an agreement regarding the return of the Hapsburgs has been reached between Italy and Germany.—

SCARE REPORTS DENIED

Chinese Assurance In London

NO MOVE AGAINST NANKING

London, June 5.

Counteracting the widespread Far Eastern scare reports, the Chinese Embassy has issued an official statement categorically denying and stigmatising as "not only groundless but mischievous" the report that Kwangtung and Kwangsi have proclaimed independence or moved troops against the Central Government.

After careful inquiries to-day from three different sources, usually well informed and showing good judgment in Chinese affairs, Reuter finds the unanimous disbelief in the reports of impending war between Canton and Nanking, and the notion that any Chinese will embark on civil war in a crisis like the present is considered inconceivable.

The report from Tokyo of a Sino-Soviet agreement is regarded with much interest, but cautiously, though it is believed that Japanese policy is likely to drive China and Russia into each other's arms.

Smuggling is still regarded as the supreme issue. In this connection the visit of Sir Frederick Leith Ross to Tokyo is watched with close interest.

Despite considerable marking down of Chinese loans, there is little actual selling and the best loans are difficult to obtain.—

PRESS STATISTICS IN GERMANY

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Munich, June 5.

Although the Party Press in Germany has made enormous progress since 1933 both in the number of publications and circulation, and technical periodicals have increased both in size and number, there has been a marked decline in the actual number of publications as a whole, many newspapers and magazines having disappeared.

In March 1933, 11,300 newspapers and magazines appeared in Germany and in March 1935 there were only 8,700. During these two years about 4,600 periodicals ceased publication and 2,000 new papers came out. The average circulation fell from 20.25 millions in the first quarter of 1934 to 18.69 millions in the first quarter of 1935. The number of papers sent through the post sank from 1,800 millions in 1933 to 1,400 millions. Foreign postings fell from 32 to 19 millions.

The majority of publications which have ceased to appear were Communist and Marxist political organs and cheap sensational magazines, so that the decline in the actual number of publications is rather to be welcomed than otherwise.—

ARMIES OF TWO KWANGS TO PROCEED NORTH

Retired Officers Called To Colours

ARMY PROCLAMATION URGING WAR

No Other Choice Left

Canton, June 5.

The Southwest Political Council here have issued a mandate combining the Kwangtung and Kwangsi armies under the name of "The People's Revolutionary anti-Japanese National Salvation Army," and instructing their commanders to be ready to proceed North.

Press gangs for coolies are very active in Canton and food prices are soaring.

Troops movements are proceeding on the borders of Kwangtung, Fukien and Hunan. The retired army officers are being called to the colours.

It is thought that the first objective of the troops in their northward march is Henchow in Hunan, with Hankow as the final objective, probably using the Canton-Hankow Railway for this purpose.

National feeling has been considerably roused in the past few days since the Southwest Political Council issued manifestoes urging the Central authorities to adopt a practical policy of armed resistance to Japan. This was demonstrated at a mass meeting of public bodies held yesterday at which a resolution was adopted urging the authorities to immediately adopt a definite policy of resistance.

MILITARY DETERMINATION

Firm support has been expressed by the leading military officers, including Generals Chen Chai-tong, Li Chung-jen and Pai Chung-hsi, who issued a circular telegram to all the political bodies in the country that for the survival of the nation there is no other choice left but to fight the aggressor, and express their readiness with the men at their command to lay down their lives for the salvation of the country.—

GEN. CHEN'S STATEMENT

Canton, June 5.

General Chen Chai-tong granted an interview to reporters yesterday and delivered the following to the press:

"My opinion on the Sino-Japanese question coincides exactly with that as expressed in the June 2 telegram of the Kuomintang Southwest Executive Committee and the Southwest Political Council. I shall abide by the will of the people who now ask for armed resistance against Japan and I will do all within my power to fulfil their expectation.

"My officers and those of the Fourth Group Army have to-day issued a proclamation urging war with Japan and I hope all press agents would contribute their part to the cause of national salvation."

FIRST BIG SURPRISE OF THE SEASON

R. Duncan Eliminated

CHAMPIONS WILL HAVE TO BE CAREFUL

Further progress was made during the week in the Open Lawn Bowls Competitions, the most notable feature of which was the defeat of the holder, R. Duncan by H. A. Alves. The last named player is playing excellent bowls at the present moment and will go a long way in the competition.

TO-DAY'S PROSPECTS

(BY "SHORT HEAD")

The results of the matches played last week in the leagues came off very much as expected.

The Senior League Champions had a narrow squeak last week against their neighbour the Police, winning by only five shots, thanks primarily to "Dick" Basa's four which were seven shots to the good against Mair's rink. The C.C.C.'s skip was ably backed up by J. Cavanagh and although the Police in this instance lost to a better skip they were not disgraced.

J. Shepherd and R. F. Luz had an exceedingly rare tussle, the result being a tie of 16 shots. In this match all eight players pulled their weight.

U. M. Omar and his men suffered a reverse at the hands of W. Hollands' four going down by two shots. This was another good game seen and the ultimate result was doubtful till the very end.

DOCKERS LOSE

Kowloon Docks went down badly to the Bowling Green by 23 shots. "Jock" McKelvie and his boys lost to R. Duncan's four by 16 shots while A. M. Holland's quartette beat R. Lapsley's rink by another seven shots.

The match between the rinks skipped respectively by L. Guy and G. Mitchell ended in a tie of 19 shots. This was the only match in which the players of the Docks came up to scratch.

RECREIO BRILLIANT

The defeat of the Craigengower "B" team by the Club de Recreio came as no surprise. As was expected the Portuguese won convincingly. C. G. Silva, last year's champion skip lost his 100 per cent record to W. Gill's four while H. A. Alves' rink inflicted a severe trouncing on Rosselet's four. This being Rosselet's first defeat this season.

The best game was that between C. G. Silva's four and W. Gill's four. The Craigengower men were leading by over ten shots before tea but thereafter the Portuguese played well and was only five shots down when the last head was played. The Portuguese were lying three when the skips sent down their woods. Gill was four yards short with his first wood while Silva missed promoting a wood. Gill was three yards short with his second wood. There was a good chance for the Portuguese to win. In trying to rest Craigengower's fourth shot and if he succeeded the Portuguese would have got six shots Silva was narrow with his shot and promoted his own front woods which at one time looked like five but after measuring it was found that they scored four and incidentally they lost by a single shot. In this match F. V. V. Ribeiro and C. G. Silva played well while the outstanding performers for Gill's rink were undoubtedly K. M. Omar and W. K. Way, who both played magnificiently.

F. X. Silva played exceedingly well and was responsible for his rink's victory against W. V. Field's four. J. J. Basto and A. M. Omar both playing No. 3 had a fine tussel and served up bowls of a very high standard.

H. A. Alves was his usual self and played well.

INDIANS FAILED

The K.C.C. had rather an unexpected win against the I.R.C. at Sookunpoo. For the first eight heads I.R.C. had matters much their own way. Phillips was down 13—3 to Dallah and Fraser's rink were down 14—3 to Madar. Hyde Lay's rink was at that time the only Kowloon rink to play anything like their own true form, and had a lead of 8-1 over Minu's rink. Phillip's rink then got going and with Silkstone and Hyde bowling well, backed ably by Bebington they gradually crept up on Dallah and at the end of the last head managed to win by 3 shots, a great achievement. Fraser's rink meanwhile were also plodding along steadily and were fortunate to get a six which helped them considerably. Directly after this six Kowloon were lying seven with Madar, playing his last wood which he drew with to lie third shot. A really great save. Gittins and and Fincher bowled well after the first few heads. Fraser started badly but improved later. For the I.R.C. Madar and Abbas were the star turn. A. H. Rumjahn played very well up to tea time but played badly after. Hyde Lay's rink had no easy task to maintain their lead. As a matter of fact they were down a couple of shots on the 16th head. Craig and Goodwin were the pick of the Kowloon side while Minu and A. M. Rumjahn did yeoman service for their side.

Kowloon are playing Recreio away and will have to play their best to win. Fraser is unable to play owing to work and his place as skip has been taken by Fincher who has Craig playing number three to him. Ferguson has been brought in to fill the gap and is playing number two in Hyde Lay's rink.

TO-DAY'S GAMES

The Indians are in for another defeat this week at the hands of the Police. The Guardians of the Law are playing better bowls than before and unless the other two Indian rinks (excluding Dallah's) can come up to scratch then the result may be a foregone conclusion.

BOXERS AT THE OLYMPICS

Five Nations To Be Represented

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Berlin, June 4.

It was at the Olympic Games in London in 1908 that boxers for the first time competed for Olympic honours, and 59 competitors, representing five nations appeared in the ring. As there were no limits regarding the entries in the various weight classes, Great Britain was represented by 39 men. Since this olympic debut, this art of self-defence has greatly increased in popularity.

The Olympic Boxing competitions will give a true picture of the state of development reached. Though the closing date for nominations is not until August it is already possible to reach some conclusions, and it seems certain that Berlin is to experience a record.

All eight weight classes will be contested by the following 15 countries: Argentine, Belgium, Brazil, Denmark, Germany, England, Finland, France, Italy, Canada, Austria, Poland, Czechoslovakia and the United States. Esthonia, Holland, Norway, Ruomania and Sweden, Spain, South Africa and Hungary will send eight contestants each, while Chile, Japan and Luxemburg will send five each. Australia, Egypt, Letland, Lithuania, Mexico, New Zealand, the Philippines, Switzerland and Urdguay are sending four each. China and Greece will be represented in three weight classes and Jugoslavia and Rhodesia in two.—Transocean News Service.

Henry Picard, Johnny Revolta, Victor Ghezzie, Tom Kerrigan, Fank Moore, Harris Delney, and Leslie Madison tied for second place with cards of 70.

Harry Cooper and K. Y. Laffoon had scores of 71, Denny Shute 72, while Olin Dutra, Walter Hagen and Tommy Armour tied for sixth place with 74.

Gene Sazaren, Horton Smith and Mortle Dutra went round in 75, and Al Espinosa and Sam Parks, junior defending champion each had cards of 76.—Reuter.

MUI TSAI CASE CONVICTION

Woman Fined For Assault

DEFENCE APPEAL FOR LENIENCY

An eloquent appeal made by Mr. M. A. da Silva for the mitigation of a fine was only partially successful yesterday against the demands of justice. Leung Siu, 42, a married woman was charged before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central court with (a) keeping an unregistered mui tsai namely one Yu Mo Lo aged 13, and (b) with ill-treating the said mui tsai.

The defendant was found not guilty on the first charge and thus the second charge also did not come within the Servants Ordinance, but Mr. Schofield found the defendant guilty of common assault which, however, he could not say was serious. Defendant was therefore given the option of a fine and was sentenced to a fine of $100 or six weeks.

Mr. Silva pleaded for mitigation in view of the fact that the husband was only earning the sum of $10 or $15 a month and that to impose a fine that would mean the earnings of a whole year was, in his opinion, excessive.

Miss E. Picton-Turbeville, a member of the Mui Tsai Commission, was present in the Court.

CASE OUTLINED

Inspector H. W. Fraser of the S.C.A. outlined the case and said the girl was found as a result of information and that the girl had said that she was a mui tsai. The defendant had loaned the girl's mother the sum of $30 to pay the expenses of the girl's father who had been banished to Wuchow. A further sum of $34 had been borrowed to meet the debts of the husband. As a consequence of the loan the girl was presented to the defendant by the mother on the understanding that the girl would be educated as an adopted daughter of the defendant.

The girl complained to the Inspector that on May 24, she had been beaten on the head and back with a piece of wood and a clog. Bruises were found and also teeth marks on her left shoulder which the girl said had been made by the defendant.

After the evidence of the translation of the document, Inspector Fraser went into the box and corroborated his case. Under the cross-examination of Mr. Silva witness said that according to the medical evidence the girl had not been neglected. Witness said that the girl compared favourably with even the natural daughters of families such as that of the defendant. It was very seldom that witness had come across a mui tsai wearing bracelets as the girl was wearing.

The evidence of the girl herself corroborated that of the prosecution, but under cross-examination she stated that even with her mother she was beaten and sometimes very severely. She had said that she wanted to go back to her mother only because she was her mother and not because she had been beaten. She stated that though she slept under the bed it was because there was no other room. The bed had been raised for this purpose.

Enquiries had been made by the defendant as to school fees and that she (witness) was told that she would be going to school the following year, as the fees were too high. The bracelets were given her by the defendant. She ate all her meals with the family and when defendant's two sons had clothes made for them she also had clothes made for her.

SPILT WINE

Mr. Silva then suggested to the girl that the spilt wine, which was the cause of the beating, had been spilt during a fight which she had had with one of the defendant's sons. This was denied. Witness admitted, however, that the defendant had also beaten her own son at the time.

Mr. Silva then submitted that the first charge should be dropped. The girl had been treated as one of the family and even Inspector Fraser admitted that she had the appearance of an adopted daughter, and further that she was very well treated.

As regards the second charge, the beating did not exceed that which a parent should give to a child and Mr. Silva then submitted that at the most the defendant should be called upon to answer a charge of common assault.

Mr. Schofield held that there were two points that went towards her being a mui tsai and they were (1) that money had been paid and (2) that she did work which was consistent with that of a mui tsai. Until evidence to the contrary was brought forward he therefore held that she was a mui tsai.

The defendant then went into the box and said that she had no servants and that all in the house took part in the work of the house. She had made enquiries about school fees and intended sending the girl there next year. Her own sons went to a free school.

BITE ON SHOULDER

The defendant's young son then went into the box and said that he had had a fight with the girl during which the wine had been spilt. He had bitten her on the shoulder during this fight. Witness said that he regarded the girl as his sister and not as a mui tsai. As a consequence of the fight and the spilling of the wine, they had been beaten, but he had run under the bed away from his mother and had therefore only been hit twice.

The size of the child's bite was then tested by giving him a bun to bite. It was further measured on a piece of chewing gum. Mr. Schofield then remarked that the two marks when compared with the marks on the girl's shoulder were of sufficient nearness as to be in favour of the boy's evidence.

Mr. Schofield then found that the girl had been intended to be an adopted daughter and the defendant was therefore discharged on the first charge. On the second charge Mr. Schofield found that though it did not come under the Servants Ordinance, there was evidence of common assault, which he could not say was serious. He therefore fined the defendant $100 or six weeks.

This sentence was partly reduced on the plea of Mr. Silva, in that the fine became $75. The husband who was in Court said that he had $20 and asked for time to pay the rest. The defendant, however, was against the husband paying the fine and said that she would rather go to prison.

SCHUSCHNIGG EXPLAINS HIS POLICY

Danger Of Dual Control

AN "HONOUR" FOR STARHEMBERG

Vienna, May 15.

Dr. Schuschnigg, the Chancellor, made his first speech to-night as leader of the Fatherland Front, the post which Prince Starhemberg, the deposed Vice-Chancellor, has resigned.

The speech marked the exclusion of the Prince, as far as the Chancellor could secure it, from all influence in the State. For Dr. Schuschnigg declared that in future "outside the militia there can be no voluntary bearers of arms."

This definitely proclaims the disarmament of the Heimwehr. To command the militia Dr. Schuschnigg appointed the new Vice-Chancellor, Major Baar-Baarenfels.

Prince Starhemberg insisted that the leader of the Fatherland Front should automatically command or be entitled to appoint the commander of the militia." In taking over from him the leadership of the Front, therefore, the Chancellor automatically secured the right to appoint the commander of the militia."

MOTHERS' HELP SECTION

The Chancellor paid many tributes to Prince Starhemberg, and finally conferred on him a distinction which is causing the cynical Viennese to ask whether he was making fun of the dashing young Prince. He stated that Prince Starhemberg, in recognition of past services to the Front, would be asked to accept the presidency of the Mothers' Help section.

Dr Schuschnigg said that he had taken over the leadership of the Front in a grave hour. Dual control had brought difficulties which demanded immediate decisions.

Although differences of opinion separated him from Prince Starhemberg, they were both united in the desire to realise Dr. Dollfuss's plans for Austria. "In the new Austria," he said, "there is no room for open or concealed Socialism. Nevertheless, we shall not ask about the past associations of any workers who will join us in the Fatherland Front."

Col. Adam, secretary of the Fatherland Front, resigned from this post in a speech in which he referred warmly to Prince Starhemberg. His two assistants also resigned.

LONDON'S NEW CENTRE OF CULTURE

TRANSFORMATION OF BLOOMSBURY

London, May 16.

Bloomsbury is becoming the Oxford of London.

Forty years ago it was a residential district of privately owned houses. Then followed the period described in Baedeker in 1911: "It is now very largely a region of boarding houses and hotels."

The early after-war period was an invasion of "intellectuals," and now it is rapidly becoming an area of dignified buildings of learning and culture.

Walk along Malet-place, which runs parallel with Gower-street, and you will pass the Institute of Medical Psychology, the National Central Library, the Museums Association, the Library Association and the Society of Genealogists. In Malet-street are the large buildings of the University of London, and the Institute of Historical Research.

There are noteworthy buildings in Gower-street: University College, University College Hospital, the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art, the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, the University of New Zealand and London Office, the Anglo-Danish Students' Bureau and the Indian Students' Hostel.

Tavistock-square provides the grand new building of the British Medical Association, the Royal Microscopical Society and the Psychical Research Society. In Bloomsbury-square are the Royal Society of Literature, the College of Preceptors and the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain.

The east side of Bedford-square is owned by the Crown, and it is expected that this will soon be filled by an extension of the British Museum. Other organisations in this square comprise the Royal Agricultural Society of England, the Carnegie United Kingdom Trust, the Architectural Association, the Institute of Builders, Epsom College Office, the Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies, the Society for the Promotion of Roman Studies.

In Gordon-square are Dr. Williams's Library, a number of schoolmasters' societies, and the Institute of Sociology. Russell-square has more than a score of learned societies, including the Royal Historical Society, the Numismatic Society, the Royal Photographic Society and the Institute of Chemistry of Great Britain.

SAILING REGATTA

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Kiel, June 4.

Sailing enthusiasts will have a fine chance of watching the contests from the decks of accompanying boats during the Olympic Sailing Regatta here. There will be enough room to accommodate several thousands daily. There will be boats for the outer track for competitions of the 6 meter, 8 meter and star classes, as also for the inner track. Everything has been done to ensure that the spectator will also get his full share of enjoyment.—Transocean News Service.

OLYMPIC GAMES VISITORS

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Berlin, June 4.

A decree modifying the German currency law, and which is of special importance for foreigners who want to visit the Olympic Games, was just issued, which provides that every traveller in Germany from foreign countries is allowed to bring with him up to 60 Marks in coins and 30 in notes, the notes, however, to be of no higher denomination than 20 Marks, and it will not be permitted to pool these amounts by several travellers into one common fund.—Transocean News Service.

KING'S INTEREST IN ATHLETICS

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Copenhagen, June 5.

King Gustav of Sweden, whose interest in athletics is well-known, has recently paid a visit to Berlin's new Olympic Stadium, in company with H.E. Ambassador Wirsen. The King, who also visited the swimming bath at the Sport Forum expressed his admiration at all he saw. During his visit he was able to see something of the training of the German jumping team, and he asked to be introduced to Hermann Ziegler, Susanne Heinze and the European woman champion, Olga Jenach.—Transocean News Service.

First Big Surprise Of The Season

The League Leaders should account for the Taikoo Dock when they entertain the Dockers at home to-day. The C.C.C. "A" are a very unreliable lot. There is not one stable rinks among the three and more often than not it is the unexpected that pulled them out of the fire. Last week's game against the Police was no exception.

Taikoo are quite up to standard at the present. They may be able to spring a first class surprise. Though the leaders are quite formidable on paper, nevertheless "the uncertainty" is always there. A good game should result with the odds slightly in favour of the Valley team.

Two teams well matched will try conclusion on the Civil Service Green when the Civil Servants meet the Kowloon Docks. On form and on paper I fancy the Government servants. Though not possessing very many brilliant bowlers of the day they have at least two good skips which ought to be able to give them the necessary pull. On the other hand they will have to play against well seasoned players like "Jock" McKelvie and R. Lapsley. The result will be a close one whichever way it goes.

C.C.C. "B" will travel across the bay to meet the Bowling Green and the homsters should win easily, while Club de Recreio should be able to put it over the K.C.C. though not without stiff opposition.

CABLE NEWS IN BRIEF

PORT OF HAMBURG TRADE

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Hamburg, June 4.

The amount of goods handled in the port of Hamburg during the first three months of 1936 shows an increase of 4.9%. Compared with 1933 this is a rise of 680,000 tons or 14% which is fairly evenly distributed between incoming and outgoing cargoes. Thirty-five per cent. of German imports and 25 of German exports pass through Hamburg and the inland trade revival and rising demand for raw materials has naturally made itself felt.

The increase in exports is considered to be largely due to successful co-operation between the Hanseatic export firms and the inland manufacturers. Further more barter trade with a number of overseas countries and the introduction of so-called "Foreigners' Special Accounts for Inland Payments," known as "Aski" for short, have led to a definite revival in trade with the countries concerned.—Transocean News Service.

TRANSLATIONS OF SHAKESPEARE

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Weimar, June 4.

The translation of Shakespeare was one of the chief items on the agenda of this year's conference of the German Shakespeare Society which was founded in 1864 in this town. There have been two schools of thought on this subject, and the Riech's Minister of Propaganda, Dr. Goebbels has invited the opinions of three members of the Society as to which translations they considered best—the modern version of Hans Rothe or the older ones of Schlegel and Tieck published about 1800.

All three members spoke in favour of the old version and against the Hans Rothe translation. The Schlegel version is said to be faultless, whereas the Tieck translations might be improved upon, but the Rothe version is not considered a suitable substitute.

The Delegates sent a telegram conveying their good wishes to King Edward VIII and the conference ended with a performance of "Richard the Third" in the Schlegel version.—Transocean News Service.

SUVICH TO BE PRESENT

Mussolini-Schuschnigg Meeting

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Rome, June 4.

The Secretary of State of the Foreign Office, Suvich, has left Rome for Forli, where he will stay till Friday evening. It is now generally assumed that the meeting between Mussolini and Schuschnigg will take place in the presence of Suvich on Friday, and would thus gain added significance.—Transocean News Service.

ETHIOPIAN ROYALTY IN LONDON

London, June 4.

The Emperor of Ethiopia, with the Crown Prince and Princess, appeared on the balcony of his temporary home in Prince's Gate this evening when he was cheered by the crowds in the street.

The Princess said a few words to the people.

"Your kindness and sympathy have given us great courage in our endeavour to appeal to the world for justice for our cause," she said.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

CONVICT MURDERER ACQUITTED

Joliet, June 4.

A jury to-day acquitted the convict, James Day, charged with murdering Richard Loeb, a fellow-prisoner in the Joliet Penitentiary, on January 30.

Day admitted to having slashed at Loeb with a razor. He said Loeb had made immoral suggestions to him.

Loeb, with another youth named Leopold, was sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of Bobby Franks, a twelve-year-old boy, some years ago. Leopold and Loeb were the sons of wealthy parents and "the thrill murder" shocked the whole of the United States. Bobby Franks was tortured to death.

Leopold is still serving sentence.—Reuter.

NEW PENAL CODE

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Leipzig, June 4.

The special Committee entrusted with the preparation of a new Penal Code for Germany reports good progress. As far as known at present there will be three categories of punishment: hard-labour, imprisonment and custody, as hitherto, but the difference will lie in the various grades of severity. The food will be the same, but those serving sentence of hard labour will have to work more hours a day and the rules about pocket money and visitors will be stricter. Thrashing and silent confinement will not be introduced, but clothing and the number of letters which may be received will vary according to the seriousness of the penalty. Sentences of hard labour will mean the loss of civil rights and the right to serve in the army. Custody will be the penalty for slight infringements of the law, which do not amount to a crime. The enforcement of the law will be stricter all around.—Transocean News Service.

GERMAN YOUTH

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Hamburg, June 4.

At the International Youth Exhibition in Chacao, where the various countries are able to show what they have done in the sphere of youth welfare, education and youth movement, Germany, has also taken a stand. A great number of enlarged photos and tables of statistics will show what the work of Germany for her youth amounts to. This opportunity will be taken to demonstrate again to the world that the German youth is prepared and willing to work in all friendship with the youth of all other countries.—Transocean News Service.

OUTGOING CABINET

Paris, June 4.

M. Albert Sarraut, accompanied by his Cabinet, has waited upon M. Lebrun, the President, and the Government's resignation has been accepted.

In accordance with custom, M. Sarraut consulted the presidents of the Senate and Chamber and then saw M. Leon Blum, who will present his cabinet to the President to-night.—Reuter.

NEW SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE

Washington, June 4.

Mr. William Bankhead, father of the screen star, Tallulah Bankhead, has been elected Speaker of the House of Representatives in succession to the late Mr. Joseph Byrns, who died suddenly yesterday.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

ARMS SURRENDER IN ETHIOPIA

Rome, June 5.

Acting Viceroy Graziani has extended the time for handing over ammunition and arms by the Abyssinians for another month in view of the difficulty of Abyssinians in the outlying country in surrendering arms by coming into towns with Italian military posts.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

NEW NELSON MUSEUM

The Victory's Bowsprit To Be Changed

London, May 18.

A new museum is to be provided in Portsmouth Dockyard for exhibits associated with Nelson and H.M.S Victory. Such objects have hitherto been displayed in one of the sheds beside the Victory, which is now needed for other purposes. It is therefore proposed to form a Victory Museum in the oldest dockyard building, which dates back to the time of Trafalgar or earlier.

In carrying out alterations to the building the utmost care will be taken to make them harmonize with the architecture of the Trafalgar period and with the Victory herself. The existing facade will be retained and a new wing added on each side.

A new bowsprit is being fitted in H.M.S. Victory. The bowsprit which she carried at Trafalgar was replaced afterwards—apparently before 1859—by the present one, which came from a smaller ship. This bowsprit is now so badly worm-eaten as to be dangerous, and will be replaced by a new one of metal of the proper size. As the length of the bowsprit affects much of the rigging of the rest of the ship, the change will make it possible to copy the original work more accurately.

ATHLETIC RECORD BROKEN

The British 100 yards record of 9-7/10 seconds set up by Eric Liddell in 1923 was broken yesterday at Cambridge by Godfrey Brown who was competing for Cambridge University against the Amateur Athletic Association.—British Wireless.

So much that is beautiful and romantic awaits you in Austria: Vienna—the world's music centre; Salzburg—the festival city; the Styrian woodlands; the beautiful Danube valley; the lakes of Salzkammergut and Carinthia; the Tyrol and Vorarlberg—lands of picturesque peasants and snow capped mountains; and the lovely landscapes of Lower and Upper Austria. Both for Summer Holidays (Golf, Tennis, Swimming, Climbing, etc.) and for Winter Sports, Austria has become more popular than ever. Come to Austria at any time of the year—you may be sure of a kindly welcome.

ITALIAN SOVEREIGNTY OVER ETHIOPIA

DECREE APPROVED BY SENATE

Rome, May 17.

The Senate showed no less patriotic enthusiasm than the Chamber had done when it met yesterday to approve the Royal Decrees re claiming Abyssinia to be under the full sovereignty of Italy, the assumption of the Imperial title by the House of Savoy, and the appointment of Marshal Badoglio to the post of Viceroy. The Prince of Piedmont, the Count of Turin, and the Duke of Genoa themselves took part in the voting, which was unanimous in favour of the decrees. Their presence was made the occasion of repeated demonstrations of loyalty to the Dynasty by a House that was packed with all the men most prominent in Italian public life.

Signor Federzoni, the President of the Senate, opened the sitting with a speech in which, after paying lofty tributes to the Royal Family, he dwelt on the historical importance of the days in which they were living and declared that the manifestations of devotion to Signor Mussolini represented the proud feeling of a people finally revealed to itself, conscious henceforth of being the master of its future, sure of its own forces, and ready, after having overcome one formidable test, to face any other whatsoever, should it be necessary.

At the conclusion of this speech, which was frequently interrupted by enthusiastic applause, Signor Mussolini demanded that the examination of the Decrees be subjected to special procedure, and the Marchese Marconi was made "rapporteur" of the committee, which included Grand-Admiral Thaon di Revel, the Marchese Imperiale, formerly Ambassador in London, and Marshal de Bono.

At the close of the sitting a marble slab was unveiled recording the first article of the Decree under which Italy took Abyssinia under her full sovereignty and the King assumed the title of Emperor for himself and his successors. This ceremony was also attended by the Royal Princes, who were greeted with renewed applause when they left the Senate.

MONEY FOR PUBLIC WORKS

With yesterday's vote in the Senate the proclamation of the Empire has been carried to its constitutional conclusion, and hopes are expressed that foreign nations may now finally realize the futility of not recognizing accomplished facts. Much prominence is given to the decision of a credit consortium for public works to draw 100,000,000 lire (about £1,600,000 sterling at current rates) from its reserve funds, in order to establish an autonomous br in Abyssinia. This burst of en siasm for the new Empire is f er adduced as a reason for disbelieving reports that Italian intrigue is at the bottom of unrest in Palestine, Egypt, and else where. Italy, it is asserted, prefers to spend her money on useful and profitable enterprises.

Another straw showing the way the wind is now blowing is the announcement made here yesterday that the Italian Government had released Pavelitch, one of the two Croats whose extradition was demanded by the French Government after the murders of King Alexander and M. Barthou in Marseilles. No mention was made yesterday of the other, Kvaternik, but a fuller statement will, it seems, be made to-morrow. Meanwhile the reason for the release appears to be that no sufficient grounds for a trial have been found.

Count Ciano, Signor Mussolini's son-in-law and Vittorio and Bruno Mussolini arrived back in Rome this afternoon from East Africa. Count Ciano has been awarded the Grand Cordon of the Colonial Order of the Star of Italy, and has been promoted Consul in the Fascist Militia for exceptional merit. Signor Mussolini's two sons have been promoted to the rank of centurion.

THE WESTERN AIR PACT

London, May 16.

Some of the questions put to Germany by the British Government will hardly receive a straight answer—those, for example, that amount to an inquiry as to whether Germany really considers herself able to honour her own signature under an agreement.

But there is one question that will have to receive a straight answer—the question with regard to air armaments. Both here and in Paris it is agreed that the proposed Western air pact is of little or no use if it is not accompanied by a limitation of air forces on a basis of parity as between Great Britain, France, and Germany. Hitler has come to no final decision as yet, but there is good reason to believe that he and his advisers are opposed to limitation on this basis. The reason they give is that Germany cannot accept an arrangement that would leave her air force in a position of inferiority to the Russian Air Force, or even to the combined Franco-Russian air forces, which would act in unison under the Franco-Russian Pact.

STANDARD OF LIVING ADVANCING

Better Clothes And Food

At the National Chamber of Trade Conference, Mr. Lyle remarked that the recovery, while it might be more perceptible in the southern counties, was not wholly confined to them, and was gradually spreading. "The general standard of living is advancing, many thousands of our people are purchasing their own homes, and are living in greater comfort, are better dressed and better fed, and what at one time were regarded as the privileged luxuries of the few are now enjoyed and treated as normal and necessary for the many."

Mr. Lyle suggested that the time had arrived for a complete review of the subject of de-rating.

"My own view, to which I do not necessarily commit others," he said, "is that the time has fully arrived, in view of changed economic conditions, the assistance which many great industries are now receiving under the Import Duties Act, and the present inequity to other classes of ratepayers, when the de-rating scheme should be repealed in favour of one more equitable, under which distinction should be made between deserving and non-deserving circumstances."

Many a business, said Mr. Lyle, had been crippled by death duties, and he suggested that life insurance should be permissible to provide specifically for death duty without being aggregated with the rest of the estate.

AMERICAN SILVER PURCHASES

ARRANGEMENT WITH CHINA

New York, May 18.

Mr. Morgenthau, Secretary of the Treasury, announced to-day at the end of a fortnight's conference of Treasury officials with representatives of the Chinese Ministry of Finance that the United States had agreed to buy from the Central Bank of China "substantial amounts of silver and also to make available to the Central Bank of China, under conditions which safeguard the interests of both countries, dollar exchange for currency stabilization purposes." Mr. Morgenthau would not state how much silver would be bought, but said that payment would be made at the average world price each month.

The Secretary further said he believed that only through frank exchanges of views such as had passed with the Chinese would it be possible to improve the internal stability of national currency and with this achieve a greater international stability. He made it plain that he was not advocating an international conference at this time. In answer to a question he said he would prefer to confer with one nation at a time.

H. K. STOCK EXCHANGE

YESTERDAY'S OFFICIAL QUOTATIONS

During the period under review the local market has been generally firm with buyers predominating, but owing to the scarcity of shares offering business has been on a restricted scale. Practically the entire investment list registered advances, the issues chiefly affected being H. K. Banks, Union Insurances, Low Level Trams, Electrics and China Lights.

Throughout the week interest was centred in the Philippine Gold Mining section and further higher marks were reached. Towards the close principally to profit-taking, rates in several cases eased off a little, but on the whole the recession has been comparatively small.
